

VOLUME L.

THE JANESVILLE DAILY GAZETTE, JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1906.

NUMBER 10.

HOW TRACTION STEAL FAILED

Details Of Mayor Weaver's Big Victory In Philadelphia Yesterday.

$400,000 GAINED FOR TREASURY

Biggest Franchise Grab Of Quaker City's History Exposed
And Prevented By Conference With Street Railway Magnates.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, March 21.—Political reform in Philadelphia achieved its most notable single victory Tuesday. The famous midnight traction franchise steal of 1901 virtually was undone. The Philadelphia Rapid Transit company, the backbone of the Widener-Elkins traction clique, whose interests extend into many states, agreed to disgorge the stolen franchises and to pay the city $400,000. Competition, which the traction monopoly never would permit, is almost assured, and incidentally the Wabash Railroad probably will gain its long-sought entrance into Philadelphia. Moreover, the city will regain franchises worth millions of dollars.

All this was accomplished by Mayor Weaver, who saw a chance to club the rapid transit company and used it. All that is necessary to bind the bargain is ratification by the city council and by the traction stockholders, which, it is expected, will meet with no opposition in either quarter.

Good Deal for the City.

Mayor Weaver's opening lay in the fact that the traction company, which is constructing a subway under Market street through the heart of the city, has not pushed its work rapidly enough to complete it within the time limit, which expires June 1, and was compelled to ask the city for a three years' extension. Should the mayor veto the ordinance work on the subway would have to be stopped June 1. Weaver threatened to refuse his approval of the measure, which, though passed by the council, would not have been re-passed over his veto.

A conference with the traction officers was arranged for, and then it was that the trolley men came to terms, and pledged themselves to return the stolen franchises, nullifying the biggest steal of the old band of political pirates.

Four of the franchises, covering the work the traction company now has in hand, and one more elevated line, the rapid transit, people will be allowed to keep in consideration of their $400,000.

CENTENARY OF JAUZES CELEBRAED IN MEXICO

Was Humble Indian Who Saved Country From Maximilian And Became Its President.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

City of Mexico, March 21.—In all parts of the Republic of Mexico festivities were held today in celebration of the centenary of Benito Juarez, the "Liberator," who was born March 21, 1806. In the capital and in all other cities throughout the republic the day was observed as a national holiday. Public buildings were decorated, business was suspended and anniversary meetings were held at which speakers of prominence told of the life and deeds of the patriot. Outside the city of Mexico the principal celebration is held in the city of Juarez, where a program of festivities covering several days has been arranged. A monument to Juarez is to be unveiled and a banquet given which will be attended by many public men.

It was due chiefly to the unconquerable courage of Benito Juarez that the attempt of Napoleon III. to establish an empire in Mexico was frustrated. The French ruler did succeed in placing the unfortunate Maximilian on the throne and the Austrian archduke assumed the functions of emperor at the Mexican capital. But when Marshal Bazaine sailed away from Mexico with his French troops, Juarez soon crumpled up the elaborate imperial structure that had been constructed of material little more enduring than glittering tinsel. Juarez was an Indian of humble origin, but by the utmost industry and perseverance he acquired great learning and gained his first distinction through his own talents.

He began his active political career at about 30, and from the time he was 36 he was one of the most notable figures in the public life of Mexico, though Santa Anna, his implacable enemy, drove him out of the country for two years, when he lived in New Orleans until 1855. Three years after his return he made himself president of the republic and was recognized by the United States, entering the City of Mexico early in 1861 and being confirmed in the presidency by a general election.

By a decree which suspended payment of foreign debts and of all national liabilities he brought down on his government the allied wrath of England, Spain and France, which powers invaded the republic. He soon made peace with England and Spain, but with France he could not treat. Napoleon III. saw in the civil strife that rent the United States an opportunity to introduce imperialism into Mexico, and he declared war against Juarez in 1862.

Juarez soon was driven from the capital by the French army, and thereafter he abandoned one seat of government after another, retreating before the victorious French. Meanwhile, although Maximilian had been declared emperor of Mexico, Juarez had something more than a normal support of the United States, and he went on fighting while fleeing until he was driven as far north as El Paso del Norte.

Here at last he made a successful stand, and soon began a steady advance southward until he invested Queretaro, where the imperial army was captured. Maximilian was taken prisoner, court-martialed and shot.

In July, 1867, Juarez re-entered the capital, and in October he was re-elected president against Porfirio Diaz, the present president of Mexico. In the next five years he was busy suppressing revolutions that Diaz mainly conducted. In 1871 he was again elected president, but died the following year of apoplexy.

AGREE TO ACT AGAIN
WHEN ASKED BY ALPHONSO

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Mardianer, March 21.—King Alfonso has reappointed the Moret ministry, which has consented to continue in office.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

History of Franchise Steal.

The midnight franchise steal in 1901 was the result of the attempt of the late "Al" Johnson, brother of Mayor Tom Johnson of Cleveland, to obtain a franchise here. He surveyed the streets, mapped out the lines, and by using virtually all of the unoccupied streets, suitable for car lines, worked out a comprehensive system of subways and surface roads.

He applied for his franchise, but the machine refused to listen to him. Instead a number of politicians formed a paper corporation. They went to Harrisburg, the legislature railroaded through the corporate grants and Gov. Stone signed the bill in the dead of night, after the midnight session of the legislature.

The city councils here were then called into extra session and granted franchises covering every unoccupied street in the city absolutely free.

Politicians Sell Out.

Ex-Postmaster General John Wanamaker led a sensational fight against the steal and made a formal offer to Mayor Ashbridge of $2,500,000 to be paid into the city treasury if the franchises should be given to him instead of the politicians asking for them. The mayor flung the offer to the ground and signed the ordinances in spite of a storm of public protest.

The politicians holding the franchises at once began to bargain with the Widener-Elkins interests, owning the Union Traction company, and finally sold their easily acquired franchises to the Widener-Elkins people for $1,500,000, practically all of it clear profit upon a political hold-up.

The Union Traction company merged itself into the new company, and after long delay set out to build the Market Street Elevated and Subway system upon one of the grants. None of the other grants ever was utilized, and in order to hold the Market street franchise the company has now been forced to relinquish over half of the franchises it was forced into buying.

Spring—Here, Mr. Winter, is where you are handed your transfer tickets. Spring begins March 21—forecast by our Mr. Almanac.

PROFESSOR LIVED AND DIED IN BED

Swedish Scholar Refused to Crawl
From Under Warm Blankets—Died from Anger.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Stockholm, March 21.—Professor Oedmann, whose recent death has received notice from King Oscar and others, was a theologian of considerable note and at the same time an eccentric of a most peculiar type. After an illness which compelled him once to keep to his bed for a time, he conceived a liking for lying abed, and did all his work and took his meals snugly ensconced in the blankets. The latter part of his life, in fact, was spent entirely in bed. The professor had an unreasonable dread of catching cold, and would never allow his bed room window to be opened. Written exercises by students were first warmed on a stove before he would touch them. His death was caused by a visit from an old farmer who wished to consult him, and by some mistake entered the bedroom with clothes plentifully besprinkled with snow. Herr Oedmann angrily ordered him away, but the visitor, who was dear, drew nearer to his bedside. This excited the warmth-loving professor so much that he broke a blood-vessel and died.

TARGET PRACTICE WITHOUT BULLETS

German Invents Appliance to Ring
Which Indicates Where Ball Would Have Hit Mark.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Berlin, March 21.—A patent has just been taken out by Colonel Von Der Peltz, at Celle, for an ingenious apparatus enabling a marksman to see the exact result of range firing even though no ammunition be used. The rifle is placed on a rest, which swings freely between two metal supports. The trigger is connected by means of a spring with a little tube below, enclosing a horizontally-placed needle, which pierces a paper target every time the trigger is pulled. The marksman aims at an ordinary target placed at the regulation distance. When he believes his rifle to be properly sighted he pulls the trigger. At that moment the needle darts forward and pierces the little indicator at the exact spot where a bullet would have struck the ordinary target.

TESLA PLANT SOLD AT SHERIFF'S SALE

The Experiment Station at Colorado Springs Goes Under Hammer
To Pay Indebtedness.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Colorado Springs, Colo., March 21.—The costly equipment of Nikola Tesla's experiment station, located here six years ago, when the noted electrician was planning great things in wireless telegraphy, is to be sold tomorrow by the sheriff at public auction to satisfy a judgment in favor of J. C. Duffner. Duffner claims to have been employed as caretaker for two years following Tesla's return to New York. Judgment was obtained by default.

Crackmen operated at Hortonville Monday night and blew the safe in the office of the Hortonville Brewing company, securing $100 in cash.

IRELAND IN PARIS EN ROUTE TO ROME

American Archbishop and French Cardinals Discuss Recent Troubles in France.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Paris, March 21.—Archbishop Ireland has arrived in Paris on his way to Rome, where he has been summoned by the Pope to confer on important church matters. The eminent American prelate has accepted the invitation of Cardinal Richard, Archbishop of Paris, to address here tomorrow a solemn gathering of all the French cardinals, archbishops and bishops. The purpose of the gathering, which is in the nature of a general council of the church in France, is to discuss the new situation in this country by the separation law and to suggest new rules of discipline to meet the present emergency. Archbishop Ireland is expected to speak of the position of the Roman Catholic church in America, its cordial relations with the state and to draw a parallel with the church's new situation in France, pointing out the many points of resemblance between present conditions in both countries. He is also expected to suggest how far the church in France may follow the American branch in adjusting its relations with the state so that it may really call itself independent and free from interference.

RUSSIAN PEOPLE DO NOT LIKE SITUATION

The Execution of Lieutenant Schmidt
Is Not Approved of by Bulk of People.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

St. Petersburg, March 21.—The sensational reports current here last night to the effect that the execution of former Lieutenant Schmidt had been followed by an extensive mutiny of sailors at Sebastopol yesterday, turns out to be unfounded. The Associated Press representative at Sebastopol telegraphs all is quiet there. At Odessa as a protest against the execution of Lieutenant Schmidt the pupils of all the high schools struck today.

AMERICAN BORN IS BEST DRESSED OF M. P.'s

Labor Members Wear Red Ties and Their Trousers Bag at the Knees.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, March 21.—The sartorial journals declare the present parliament to be the worst-dressed within recollection. All the red ties and slouch hats and reefer jackets and baggy-kneed trousers of the labor members are poor compensation for the exquisite correctness and dandyism of one or two members. The best-dressed man in the House of Commons is declared to be the American-born Mr. Burdett-Coutts. Just now he favors a blue-grey morning garb. His shirt-front is blue, and as a consequence his cuffs are as blue as Italian skies, his handkerchief has a broad hem of blue, and when he reclines in dignified repose it is revealed that his hose delicately match the tint of his tie, which is dark blue.

MRS. A. D. T. WHITNEY DEAD.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Boston, Mass., March 21.—The death of Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney, the author of stories for young people, is announced today.

GREAT MISSIONARY CONVENTION OPENS

Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, and Iowa Methodist Churches Nearly All Represented.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Minneapolis, Minn., March 21.—What promises to be the most notable as well as the largest missionary convention ever held in the Northwest was formally opened in this city today, to continue during the remainder of the week. The gathering is attended by several hundred delegates and twice as many other visitors, representing practically every Methodist church in Wisconsin, Minnesota, eastern Illinois and northern Iowa. The general purpose of the convention is to bring together the church leaders of the several districts and the active missionary workers, to review the missionary efforts of the past and to lay plans for the future. Several bishops of the church and a number of returned missionaries are on the program for addresses. An interesting feature of the gathering is a missionary exhibit second in size and general interest to none ever displayed in this country. The exhibit is the same as that displayed at the late general conference of the Methodist church held in Los Angeles.

MANY WILL ATTEND WHEELER MEMORIAL

Confederate Veterans and Officers of Grand Army To Be Present—
Will Be a Reunion.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Atlanta, Ga., March 21.—Every mail brings to the local committee additional acceptances of invitations to attend the Wheeler memorial exercises in this city next Tuesday, preceding the opening of the national reunion of the Blue and the Gray. The list of those who have signified their intention to be present includes the names of prominent men in every section of the country. Many public men will come down from Washington to attend. The national officers of the G. A. R., the United Confederate Veterans and other organizations of similar character will be present. The special guests of honor will include the surviving veterans who followed the dashed Confederate cavalry leader in his campaigns.

WILL START WORK IN THE NEXT FEW DAYS

Commission to Investigate Rates in and About New York To Act Now.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, March 21.—The interstate commerce commission today issued a notice that an investigation will be made by the commission on March 23 of the reports that many shippers in and about the city of New York have been persistently undervaluing and misrepresenting the freight shipped by the railroads from that city and other points in eastern territory. It is expected some highly interesting developments will take place.

At the annual meeting of the Fond du Lac County Old Settlers' club the following officers were elected: H. D. Hitt, president; George Ferris, vice-president; A. T. Glaze, recording secretary; W. A. Melkiejohn, treasurer.

MINE WORKERS HAVE A CONFAB

Joint Scale Committee Of Operators And Miners Held In Indianapolis.

MITCHELL MAKES STIRRING APPEAL

Says That There Is Justice In The Demands Of The Miners Upon The Operators, And Asks For Consideration.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Indianapolis, Ind., March 21.—The joint scale committee of the coal operators and miners of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois went into an executive session today at the Claypool hotel. The conference is composed of thirty-four men, including President John Mitchell, Secretary-Treasurer Wilson of the United Mine Workers, ex-officio members of the scale committee, four operators and four miners from each of the four states.

Mitchell's Appeal.

It is now definitely known President John Mitchell of the miners Tuesday made a dramatic appeal for industrial peace in the coal fields of the country before a joint convention of operators and miners. He charged the operators with responsibility of precipitating a great and ruinous strike if they failed to make every possible effort to reach an agreement with their men.

The speech was the feature of the opening session of the conference brought about through the intervention of President Roosevelt and upon the outcome of which depends continued industrial peace or a trade paralyzing conflict of widespread proportions in the soft coal producing states.

Simultaneously word was received from New York that President Baer of the Reading railroad had replied to President Mitchell that the anthracite operators are ready to meet the miners' committee at any time.

In one section of the hall sat 500 employers. In another were 1,000 miners. The galleries were filled to overflowing with spectators. All applauded Mr. Mitchell when he declared the business interests demanded the settlement of the dispute.

Victory for Peace Faction.

Another feature of the meeting was the partial victory scored by Francis

L. Robbins and the "peace" faction among the operators in having the wage question passed along to a joint scale committee of miners and operators.

Robbins' success after a day of buffeting in carrying out his peace program to this point is viewed in two lights. That the big Pittsburg operator has achieved his prime object in narrowing the discussion to a compass of thirty-two men, comprising the joint committee, instead of throwing it open to various insurgent camps of operators and miners is admitted. That he has yet to overcome tremendous odds represented by the operators who are standing firmly against a compromise with the miners also was emphasized.

Peace is as chimerical to-day as yesterday. Many believe it is more so, but the fact that the operators have consented to remain on the ground and endeavor to treat with the miners is regarded as a good omen.

It was in behalf of the country at large that President Mitchell pleaded for settlement.

"We owe it first to ourselves and next to our country," he said, "to put forth our best efforts to reach an agreement that will preserve industrial peace in the coal fields of this nation. The responsibility upon us is great, and no man should attempt to avoid his share."

In beginning his address, Mr. Mitchell declared the convention of miners and operators was assembled "under what possibly are the most extraordinary circumstances in the industrial history of the country."

"When we adjourned in this city more than six weeks ago," he said, "it seemed to us as if it did to the entire

(Continued on Page 5.)

SECRETARY TAFT IS BACKING THE PLAN

Would Preserve Niagara Falls and Not Allow It To Become Commercialized.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, March 21.—If Niagara Falls are to be preserved as one of the wonders of the world immediate action by the United States and Canada is required, according to the findings of the American members of the international water ways commission, which has for the past year been studying the conditions at the Falls and in the tributary territory of the Great Lakes. This report was today submitted to congress by Secretary Taft with a letter calling the attention to the urgency of the case. Legislation is suggested that will put a stop to further depletion of the Falls and at the same time inflict the least possible injury upon the important interests now depending upon water power of the Niagara river.

MINE CONDITIONS WOULD BE WHOLLY REVOLUTIONIZED

Operators Make Statement on Results Should Demands of Miners
Be Granted—150 Per Cent Increase in Wages.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, March 21.—The demands of the anthracite mine workers for a readjustment of wages and conditions in the anthracite field would, if granted by the operators, mean a veritable revolution in mining conditions, according to a statement issued by the operators' committee of seven men today. The statement declares it to be a mistake to assume that an eight-hour day and ten percent increase represents the sum total of the demands of the miners. The "new and uniform scale" says the statement "would place every man on the same basis, increasing the wages of some men as much as 150 per cent. The average increase under the uniform scale would be nearly thirty percent for outside men. The proposed schedule would mean a veritable revolution in all mining conditions."

IOWA LEGISLATURE PASSES A BILL AIMED AT THE STANDARD OIL COMPANY

Des Moines, Ia., March 21.—The house today passed an anti-discrimination bill which is intended to oust the Standard Oil company from Iowa or compel the revision of their business methods.

SEEKING CLEMENCY FOR VOODOO DOCTOR

Counsel for Aged Negro Convicted of Being Accomplice to Murder, Before Pardon Board.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Pa., March 21.—Counsel for George P. Hossey, the negro "voodoo" doctor, sentenced to be hanged next week for complicity in the murder of William Wanz, have taken their case before the state board of pardons and at Harrisburg today will make a plea to have the sentence of death commuted to life imprisonment. The aged negro is accused of having sold to Mrs. Catherine Dantz "love powders" with which she made away with her husband. The woman was tried and convicted of being a principal in the murder. She was sentenced to be hanged, but her sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. The lawyers for Hossey argue that he was only an accomplice and that in view of the action taken in the woman's case his sentence also should be commuted.

In Moynessing prison, the aged "voodoo" doctor, who for years sold "love charms" and "philtres" to ignorant men and women, has acted strangely ever since he was first committed. Only recently he refused to eat any food for a period of eight days, because a screen had been placed in front of the grating in the door of his cell. He is more than 80 years old.

RELEASE TRAIN THAT WAS CAUGHT IN SNOW

Train Arrives in Champaign Two Days Late This Morning—Passengers Merry.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Bloomington, Ill., March 21.—The Illinois Central train marooned in the snowdrifts twelve miles from Decatur has been released and reached Champaign two days late. The farmers supplied the passengers with food.

ANDREW HAMILTON IS DECIDED IN OPINION

Will Not Testify Before The Examining Committee As He Was Requested.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, March 21.—Andrew Hamilton today sent a reply to the Fowler investigating committee of the New York Life Insurance company, declining to appear before the committee to be examined as to his work for the company.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

WILLIAM RUGER, WILLIAM RUGER, JR.

RUGER & RUGER,
LAWYERS.F. C. BURPEE,
ATTORNEY AT LAWRoom 1 Central Block.
New Phone 51. Janesville, Wis.
John Winans. H. L. MaxfieldWINANS & MAXFIELD, ATTORNEYS AT LAWRoom 2 Central Bk. Janesville, Wis.
New Phone 240. Old Phone 4783.THOMAS S. NOLAN, LAWYER.311-313 Jackson Building.
Janesville : : : WisconsinJ. J. GUNNINGHAM, LAWYER.No. 215 Hayes Block.
Janesville : : : WisconsinJESSE EARLE
Attorney at LawRooms 17-18 Sutherland Bk.
Janesville : : : WisconsinWILSON LANE
LAWYERRooms 415 Hayes Bk. Janesville, Wis.
Now practicing in all the courts and, in these days of GREED and GRIFT, propose to stand by our clients and guarantee to each and every one a "SQUARE DEAL."

Phone, Rock County 365.

STANLEY D. TALLMAN,
LAWYER.Opp. Merchants and Mechanics' Bank
11 West Milwaukee Street.
Janesville, Wisconsin.CHAS. W. REEDER,
ATTORNEY AT LAW AND JUSTICE
OF THE PEACE.Room 4 Carpenter Block.
New Phone 575 : : Janesville, Wis.

CORYDON G. DWIGHT, M. D.

207 Jackson Bldg.
Practice Limited to EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT Consultation from 9 to 12 and 2 to 5 and by appointment.
Telephone 890.COLONIST LOW ONE-WAY
SECOND CLASS RATESTo Tennessee, Kentucky, Nebraska, Wyoming, Kansas, Colorado, Misssouri, New Mexico, Texas, Western Louisiana, Arkansas, and Oklahoma and Indian Territories.
Via the North-Western line, will be in effect on Tuesdays, March 6th and 20th. For tickets and full information apply to agents Chicago & North-Western R.R.Homessekers' Excursion to the Northwest, West and SouthwestVia the North-Western line. Excursion tickets at greatly reduced rates
are on sale to the territory indicated above. Standard and tourist sleeping cars, free reclining chair cars and
"The Best of Everything." For dates
of sale and full particulars apply to agents Chicago & North-Western R.R.

UNCALLED FOR LETTERS

GENTLEMEN—J. M. Bodenberger,
Chas. Cutler, Geo. P. Campbell, James
Casey, John Duggan, M. Damben, Roy Fomander, Clarence J. S. Holl-quist, James Hurd, O. H. Holtan, Feder Johnson, A. O. Knudson, Jack Mc-Quade, C. N. Noltemeyer, Chas. Norton, Thomas Prentzell, Ezra Prosser, H. H. Scott, L. W. Sullivan, H. Slot-nik, Albert Tait, George Wigdale, Henry J. Wilson.LADIES—Miss Anna Achaumer,
Mrs. O. A. Bradley, Miss Louisa Campbell, Mrs. Harriet Chapin, Mrs.
Francis Kir, Miss Jenny Olson, Mrs.
E. L. Reynolds, Miss Clara Smith,
Mrs. H. A. Tisdale, Miss Carrie Wilson, Lida Walker.FIRMS—Kaplan & Pizer Co.
March 21, 1906.

FUTURE EVENTS

Howard Stock Co. at Myers theatre tonight in repertoire.
Great emotional address, Margaret Anglin, in drama "Zira" at Myers theatre Friday evening, March 23.

LODGE MEETINGS TONIGHT

Olive Lodge No. 27, Degree of Honor, at hall.
St. Patrick's Court No. 318, W. C.
O. F., at Foresters' hall.
Interior Freight Handlers at Trades Council hall.

The Pure Food Roll of Honor.

"Good Housekeeping," a well known household magazine, voluntarily made a thorough examination and test of Nonsuch mince meat, and placed it without reservation upon its roll of honor.In the March number of Good Housekeeping, in the department of "Pure Food Assurance," we find:
"Nonsuch mince meat, Merrill, Soule Co., Syracuse, a semi-moist condensed compound of beef, apples, spices, sugar, raisins, currants, bold cider, and salt, without other pre-servatives or adulterants, no artificial coloring, produced under conditions as near to sanitary perfection as possible."This guarantee, which could not be bought at any price, ought to satisfy the most particular housewife.
The sale of one million packages a month seems to prove the Nonsuch to be true. Your grocer sells Nonsuch.
Try it, and satisfy yourself.
You are the one.STAND PAT ON THE PHILIPPINE TARIFFConnecticut Senators Refuse to Listen to Coterie of Unaffected Business Men.Washington, D. C., March 19.—Senators Morgan G. Bulkeley and Frank B. Brandegee of Connecticut, are unalterably opposed to the Philippine tariff bill, and have so informed several of their prominent constituents.
In a letter to seventeen of the leading business men of Connecticut, who petitioned the senators to vote for the bill, Senator Bulkeley says he is in favor of a "square deal for home industries."A few days ago seventeen prominent business men of Connecticut, who are advocates of the protective tariff, joined in a petition to Messrs.
Bulkeley and Brandegee urging that their votes be cast in favor of the Philippine tariff bill. They declared that a vote against this proposition would misrepresent the overwhelming republican sentiment in Connecticut and would frustrate President Roosevelt's policy of a "square deal" for the Philippines. Those who signed the petition were the following:Frederick J. Kingsbury, of Waterbury, president of the Scovill Manufacturing Company, also president of the Citizens' National Bank of that city; John H. Whittemore, recently connected with Tuttle & Whittemore, the malleable iron concern of Naunguck, director of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad; James S. Blon, of Waterbury, vice-president of the American Brass Company, President of the Waterbury National Bank and director in the New York,
New Haven and Hartford R. R.; P.
Corbin, president of the American Hardware Corporation of New Britain and the founder of P. & F. Corbin; Charles M. Jarvis, of New Britain, 1st vice president of the American Har-ware Corporation; G. M. Landers, of New Britain, treasurer of Landers, Frany & Clark Company; Sylvester C.
Dunham, of Hartford, president of the Travelers' Insurance Company; D.
Newton Barney, of Farmington, capitalist, connected with various Harford enterprises and a director in the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad; C. S. Mellen, of New Haven, President of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad; Mel-gus H. Whaples, treasurer of the Collins Company of Collinsville, and president of the Connecticut Trust and Safe Deposit company of Hartford; Col. F.
W. Cheney, head of Cheney Brothers of South Manchester, and a director in the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad; E. G. Burnham, of Bridgeport, president of the Eaton, Cole & Burnham company, the large casting concern; Thomas P. Taylor, of Bridgeport, former mayor of that city, president of the Taylor manufacturing company, and a capitalist; Schuyler Merritt, of Stratford, vice president of the Yale & Towne Manufacturing company; Charles H. Nettleton, of Derby, president of the New Haven Gas Company, of the Birmingham National Bank and identified with many business enterprises in Derby; Morris P. Tyler, of New Haven, president of the Southern New England Telephone Co. and connected with various manufacturing and financial interests of New Haven, and Max Adler, of Haven, head of Strouse, Adler & Co., the well known manufacturers, prominently identified with other manufacturing and financial interests.Notwithstanding the fact that all these gentlemen are prominently identified with the republican party in Connecticut, Senators Bulkeley and Brandegee have declined to change their attitude toward the Philippine bill. To each of the signers of the petition, Senator Bulkeley has addressed the following letter, which is concurrent in by Mr. Brandegee:"Dear Sir: I find your name, with others, attached to a petition received requesting me to use my influence and give my vote in favor of what is known as the Philippine tariff bill.
"Up to this date, the only requests received from my constituents (and they have been very numerous) have been to oppose this bill. These have been almost entirely from persons engaged in occupations or industries unfavorably affected by such legislation, which would be very far from being in accord with the well established principle of the republican party of protection to American industries."The parties, principally interested are the tobacco growers, cigar makers and those engaged in rice culture and beet sugar cultivation and manufacture, who have protested with great unanimity against the legislation asked for by the President, and these protestants number both republicans and democrats.I am aware that all the signers of this petition are either engaged in business that needs no tariff protection or industries that are fully protected under the present tariff laws.
Why open the door against the interests that I have named to a competition which they fear?If the expectations of the friends of this legislation are realized and the "square deal" is afforded, the Philippines will certainly, in the near future, bring the products of cheap labor and living of the islands in close competition with these industries, some of which are yet in their infancy.I regret to feel obliged to disagree with the views of constituents whose opinions in business matters I so highly respect, but with my own views of republican policies in protected matters and from knowledge from the lengthy hearings before the committee, I am compelled to adhere to such policies and to cast my vote when permitted for a "square deal for home industries."Homessekers' Excursion to the Northwest, West and Southwest.
Via the North-Western line. Excursion tickets at greatly reduced rates
are on sale to the territory indicated above. Standard and Tourist Sleeping cars, free reclining chair cars and
"The Best of Everything." For dates
of sale and full particulars apply to agents Chicago & North-Western R.R.A postmortem examination on the body of Fred Wagner, Dunn, Minn., shows his head was smashed and that he had been shot three times.ONE OF THE THREE ONE NIGHT STANDSJanesville Is Highly Favored in Forthcoming Appearance of Margaret Anglin—A Letter from ChicagoMargaret Anglin, the gifted Canadian actress who first attained distinction as "Roxane" in Richard Mansfield's production of "Cyrano de Bergerac," and who is to appear in Janesville Friday evening in "Zira," a dramatic version of Wilkie Collins' romance "The New Magdalen," was given a cordial welcome in Milwaukee Monday evening. While finding some fault with an old fashioned emotional melodrama of the "East Lynne" school, as he chooses to term it, E. H.
Kronsgaard of the Free Press adds that "anything Miss Anglin touches on the stage is transmuted into histrionic gold no matter what dress it really is and her performance of Zira is full of delights for the lover of naturalistic acting." The comment of the Sentinel dramatic critic is in a similar vein. Both give high praise to James Lee Finney, Arthur Lawrence, J. R. Crawford, Lucille Watson, Mrs. Thomas Whiffen, and others of the supporting company. The following letter has been received at this office:Dear Sir:
I hope you will see to it that your townspeople appreciate the fact that "Zira," as presented in your city by Miss Anglin and the Princess Theatre Players, is precisely the same "Zira" as seen at the Princess Theatre, New York, for three months and to be presented for three weeks, beginning March 26, at the Garrick Theatre, Chicago—not an indifferent roadshow of the No. 2 order.
There are no Number Two's of "Zi-ra," and the place only plays three one-night engagements between St. Louis and Chicago, and one of these is in your city.Yours truly,
CHARLES BRADFORD
Business Manager.A NEW REAL ESTATE
FIRM IS IN FIELDBennett, Litts & Co. Establish Offices in Janesville—"Publicity" Is the Motto.A new real estate firm under the name of Bennett, Litts & Co., is entering the business field of Janesville and Rock county with offices at the corner of River and Milwaukee streets, over the Badger Drug Co., rooms 2 and 3. Both A. A. Bennett and W. J. Litts are well known and their business plans for developing transactions in real estate should meet with instant success. Each piece of property listed with them will be advertised free of charge to the owner for one year if necessary to complete the transfer. In the Daily and Semi-Weekly Gazette, this is used is a strong pulling power but aside from the advertising which places the description of property before over 30,000 readers and possible buyers,
the members of the firm of Bennett, Litts & Co. will personally seek to bring buyer and seller together. The new concern goes on the theory, and a wise idea, too, that to make money in the real estate business and for all parties concerned in a transaction, quick action must be brought in play.
The mere listing of property with an agency will not accomplish results, the added power of publicity is needed so that prospective buyers and sellers may be brought together.
Those who have property to sell and those who are seeking to buy property are requested to write at once for full information. A specialty is made of farm lands both locally and away. Bennett, Litts & Co. already have 50,000 acres of choice northern Texas lands to offer, as well as improved farms in Missouri. Write to them today and watch for their lists of properties which will appear soon.UNIVERSITY MAN IN CHINESE SERVICE
Wisconsin Graduate Student Appointed to Imperial Customs Office in Shanghai.Horatio B. Hawkins, graduate scholar in political science at the University of Wisconsin, has just received notification of his appointment to the Chinese Imperial Customs service under Sir Robert Hart, Shanghai. The customs service, while nominally under the Chinese government, includes a number of English and French consuls, together with a few from the United States. Mr. Hawkins has been specializing in work in political science and political economy in preparation for this field and was recommended for this position by the faculties of these departments.Fulda at Madison Dr. Ludwig Fulda, well known German dramatist, lectured at the university under the auspices of the German department Monday on "Schiller and the New Generation," and on Tuesday he gave readings from his own works. The Germanische Gesellschaft of the university had arranged for a presentation of Fulda's comedy "Die Zwillingsschwes-ter" by the Pabst theatre company of Milwaukee Tuesday evening, on which occasion Dr. Fulda saw his play presented for the first time in this country as he was unable to reach Milwaukee in time to see the performance there the previous week.English and French Editions Professor Joseph Morrow of the university has a new volume in press on "The Subconscious," which will appear in an English edition simultaneously and which has also been translated into French, with an introduction by Professor Janet of the University of Paris as a volume in the Library of Contemporary Philosophy and Psychology.A GUARANTEED CURE FOR PILES.
Piles, Hemorrhoids, Protruding Piles, Druggists are authorized to refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

Gazette want ads bring results.

SISTER SEARCHING FOR FIFTEEN YEARSHas Failed to Locate Bertha Greenwood, Supposed to Have Been Adopted by a Janesville Lawyer's Family.In a communication to the Gazette written at Evansville on March 17, W. S. Austin asks for information concerning a woman who as a girl fourteen years of age was taken from the state school at Sparta over a decade ago, and is supposed to have been adopted by some lawyer's family in Janesville. Her name originally was Bertha Greenwood and the writer says that her sister has been looking for her in vain for 15 or 16 years. He asks anyone possessing any information relative to the matter to correspond with W. S. Austin, Evansville, Wis.

Labor Notes

After conferences extending over 4 weeks, the joint grievance committee of the Lackawanna conductors and trainmen has abandoned its effort to reach an agreement with General Superintendent Clark on the question of hours and wages.President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor has announced that while the Federation will use every effort to avoid a strike of coal miners, that body will give the United Mine Workers its full support in event that a strike is declared.A circular letter signed by J. C.
Watson and Frank Tudor, leader and secretary of the Australian Federal Labor Party respectively, has been sent to the Commonwealth Labor Councils, advocating the adoption of a uniform trade union label by the workers of the commonwealth.It is estimated that 80,000 children are working in the cotton mills in the South, employed on twelve-hour shifts. In the industrial states there are over 1,700,000 children under sixteen years of age at work. In the South six times as many children are working now as there were twenty years ago.It was announced recently that the anthracite operators are willing to grant the 145,000 mine workers in eastern Pennsylvania the increase of pay demanded if the men waive their other demands.The annual report of the New Jersey Bureau of Statistics shows that modern methods have revolutionized the glass-blowing industry in that state, making it possible for the same number of men to double their output.
Wages are much higher.NOTICE TO OWNERS OF PROP-ERTY ALONG BOTH SIDES OF ROCK RIVER BETWEEN FOURTH AVENUE AND SOUTH FIRST STREET.You are hereby invited to attend a meeting of the highway committee to be held at the council chambers in the city hall at 4:30 o'clock p. m.
Thursday, March 22, 1906, for the purpose of further consideration of the establishment of river lines between the above named points.
By order of the common council.
A. E. BADGER
City Clerk.

March 21, 1906.

STUDENTS WON PLACE
FOR THE CANDIDATEReport From the Primaries at Madison Show the Part They Played Yesterday.[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., March 21.—The ministers of Madison combined with the university students and won a municipal political victory in the nomination of Attorney Leslie E. Rowley for mayor on the republican ticket.
The saloons and brewers were arranged on the other side with Alderman Frank Smith as the nominee.
After one of the most strenuous campaigns in the history of the city, Mr.
Rowley was victorious in the primaries, and examination of the vote by wards shows that it was the students who carried the day. During the hours of the primaries it was a frequent sight on the streets to see squads of students, singing little campaign dicties with as much enthusiasm as football songs were once sung at intercollegiate gridiron contests. The campaign was managed by the ministers in the interests of law enforcement, protesting against the prevailing custom of allowing the saloons to remain open on Sunday contrary to the law. President Van Hise is gratified with the result of the primaries, as he believes it means a better moral environment for the students.JOHN L. SULLIVAN this district to conform strictly to the law. In this he was aided by citizens and ministers generally and his work was the purging of the downtown shopping district of all disreputable joints. Mr. Hall's most famous place was the Wayside Inn, which during the World's Fair was one of the most popular cafes in Chicago and the most unique in the world. In speaking of his protegee, Sullivan, Mr. Hall refers back to the old days when John L. was the idol of the American public. There was perhaps no man who ever stepped into the squared circle that had the admiration of the country more than did John L. He is a big fellow, jer-atic in manners and behavior, but still the man who came from cultur-ed Boston and fought the greatest battles in the history of the American ring annals. Mr. Hall and Sullivan will be in Janesville for three days next week at the West Side theatre, which makes its initial bow to the public under the management of James Connors.MARO'S FEATS WERE TRULY WONDERFULLarge Audience Enjoyed Magical, Musical, Artistic and Shadowgraphical Entertainment.Seldom does one man with three assistants present a more versatile entertainment of merit than that furnished by Maro, the magician, musician, artist and shadowgrapher at the Y. M. C. A. last evening. The event was the last on the annual lecture course and proved by far to be the biggest of various entertainments presented here. The large auditorium was filled to the capacity. Maro'sTRACK TEAM REVOLT IS VERY SERIOUSHarold Myers of This City Is One of the Revolving Athletes at University.[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., March 21.—Unless the faculty of the University of Wisconsin determines to settle the football question within a few days and allow some form of gridiron game to be continued as an intercollegiate sport, there will be no track athletics, no aquatic, no baseball, and no outdoor athletics whatever at this institution. The members of the track team have lead the movement, which is near to a strike in the feeling that prevails and in the effect aimed at.
The track team, following the announcement of the list of entries for the dual meet scheduled at Ann Arbor against Michigan next Saturday night, held a meeting and adopted resolutions, setting forth the fact that the track athletes deemed it useless to continue training without a coach or any prospect of a coach, and would therefore decline to enter into any intercollegiate competition this year until it had been decided by the faculty and athletic authorities that proper coaching would be supplied for the track team. Professor T. S. Adams, faculty supervisor of athletics, was asked by Manager Downer the prospects for the retention of intercollegiate, and was informed that there was scarcely a remnant of sentiment in the faculty in favor of any form of football whatever; that it was desired that the captain of each team act as coach; that there be no professional coach in any department of sports, and that college sports be of the mild and inexpensive sort that shall cost little and be not over strenuous. This indicated that Wisconsin would have no adequate track coaching this season and the athletes determined not to enter any intercollegiate contests in view of this prospect of inevitable defeat for the Badgers.
By remaining out of intercollegiate contests, the athletes save a year for their lives as college amateur athletes, under the four-year rule.EAGLES ENTERTAINED THEIR MANY GUESTSSmoker Given Which Was Largely Attended by Friends of the Order.Last evening the Fraternal Order of Eagles gave another of their public smokers and athletic contests in their hall in the Carle block. Some three hundred guests enjoyed spirited contests between Harry Jones of Milwaukee and Slawson of Janesville, and Tod Young of Milwaukee and "Young" Agnew of Janesville.
Referee A. L. Schuler gave the first contest to Slawson on a foul and in the second it was declared a draw.
"Kid" Herrick, a Rochester, New York, boxer, and Steve Kinney of Chicago then gave a clever eight-round sparring exhibition which referee Schuler called a draw. Several musical and literary selections were given and during the evening a flashlight picture was taken of the contestants and audience.Happiness in the Hollows.
Dar never wuz no lowdowns or sorrow but a sunbeam found its way ter 'em 'n' set some bird a-singin'. At lanta Constitution.PYTHIANS GOING TO EVANSVILLE TONIGHTFour Lodges Are to Join in an Exemplification of Lodge Work and Banquet—Train Leaves at 7:30.Members of Oriental Lodge No. 22 of the Knights of Pythias numbering it is expected, fifty or more, will board the special from Beloit over the North-Western railroad at 7:30 this evening for a pilgrimage to Evansville. The Evansville, Brooklyn, Be-loited, and Janesville lodges are to join in an exemplification of the three ranks and the work will be followed by a big banquet at the Central House. The train will leave Evansville for the return trip at two o'clock tomorrow morning. Local members who expect to make the trip are asked to be at the lodge hall at 7:00 tonight or at the depot at 7:30.

STRANGE FACTS.

It seems strange that sometimes your stomach or bowels won't digest your food, no matter what you eat.
It may be the weather, or it may be just the state of your general health, but in any case, there is only one certain, safe and positive method of cure, and that is the proper use of that universal remedy for all forms of dyspeptic trouble or digestive weakness, whether in stomach, liver, kidneys or bowels—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.Strange, it is, that in such little tablets, to be taken a few times a day, may lie such wondrous potential possibilities, that by their use the course of a man's whole life—yes, of the world—may be changed!Yet, who would not appreciate the fact that if Napoleon had not been suffering from Cancer of the Stomach he would have won instead of lost—at Waterloo?And Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets would have cured his Stomach Trouble had they been invented, as they have cured thousands of others in the past ten years, who have suffered just as Napoleon did.So you can readily appreciate that today, but curing all these people, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is helping to get the world's work done, by people who would do worse work if they were sick, so they must be having a great influence, in a quiet way, on the world's progress.They may, therefore, be classed as one of the triumphs of science, amongst other discoveries, in medicine, mechanics, transportation, etc.Let this, then, remain in your memory, a fact upon which to act when occasion requires—
"When any organ in your vast ingestive machinery gets out of order, you have at your command one of the great inventions of the age, in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, to put your machinery in order again."By so doing you will save much useless friction, add to the energy and working possibilities of your bodily machine, and relieve yourself from the old age and death.All this is strictly in accordance with the most modern teachings of the best scientific schools of health, hygiene and medicine, and it will be to your advantage to lay these facts to heart.Don't hesitate. Try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets today.DO NOT THROW YOUR CARETS AWAY—
We make beautiful rugs from your worn out, faded and soiled carpets. Carpets, any size, made into beautiful rugs, 50c. to 75c. per sq. yd. and up. We pay the freight. Write today.
GEO. MARTIN & SON
Baraboo, Wis.

This want ad appeared in the Gazette.

SNAPS

If one needed a cutter or harness, it would be a snap to run across a bargain like this:
FOR SALE—One single cutter and two sets single harness. L. A. Williams, 8 Cherry St.A great many snaps are to be found in the Gazette Want Columns.
Maybe today's snap contains a snap for you.Rockford, Beloit, & Janesville
R. R. Co.
DAILY BULLETIN.
Cars leave 6:00 a. m., 7:15 a. m. and 15 minutes after the hour until 11:15 p. m.
Last car for Rockford, at 10:15
a. m.; for Beloit, 11:15 p. m.
Cars arrive 6:45 a. m. and 11:45 p. m.
SUNDAY SCHEDULE
First car leaves 7:15 a. m.
First car arrives, 7:15 a. m.
Baggage checked on one-way tickets.
Baggage cars leave, 8:15 a. m., 12:15, 4:15 and 8:15 p. m.The man who smokes and smokes well and who appreciates the BEST, is the man we're after. Try our LITTLE GARMUR 5c CigarIt's the best made for the money.

Myers Grand Opera House

PETER L. MYERS, Manager.
New Telephone 608ONE WEEK, TONIGHT

Howard Stock Co.

Direct from the Howard Theatre, Chicago."THE SON OF MONTA
CRISTO"Prices, 10, 20, 30c.
Seats now on sale at boxoffice.THE First National Bank of Janesville, Wisconsin.

Capital & Surplus $200,000

DIRECTORS

S. B. Smith, Pres.
L. B. Carle, Vice Pres.
J. O. Keston, Cashier
A. P. Lovejoy, G. H. Rumrill
H. Richardson, T. O. HoweA Strictly Commercial Business
TransactedHeimstreet Says
The Guessing
Contest Is Over

Are you chained down, too much work?
Doing everything, as clerk?
Place Gazette Want Ads and find Something suited to your mind.

Three Lines Three Times, 25c.

WANT ADS.

WANTED—Girls to operate knitting machines; steady employment and good wages. Lewis Knitting Co.

WANTED—A good competent girl for general housework. Mrs. W. C. Hart, 254 S. Main St.

WANTED—Experienced dining room girl, wages $16 per month. Also girls for private homes, good wages. Mrs. E. J. McCarthy, 226 West Milwaukee St.

WANTED—Energetic, trustworthy man or woman to work in Wisconsin, responsible large manufacturing company. Salary $40 to $50 per month, plus expenses. References advanced. Address with stamp, J. H. Moore, Janesville, Wis.

MANAGER WANTED—Reliable company wants responsible man to take charge of branch house in Wisconsin. Stable salary $12 per month and commissions. References and $1000 cash required. Address Box 183 Chicago.

WANTED—Roll top office desk. Address Desk, Gazette.

WANTED—A second hand safe and standing desk. Address, giving size and price, Box 63, Janesville, Wis.

Quest best agents extra $30 and up weekly. Permanent position. Part of $1000. Western New York Nursery Co., Rochester, N.Y.

WANTED—Gentleman or lady with good references to travel for first $25.00 capital. Salary $1,000 per year and expenses. salary paid weekly and expenses advanced. Address with stamp, J. A. Alexander, Janesville, Wis.

WANTED—For U. S. Army—Abolished unmarried men between ages of 21 and 25, citizens of United States of 21 years and temporary habits, who can speak, read and write English. For information apply to Recruiting office, Empire Hotel, Janesville, Wis.

WANTED—A young girl for general housework. 400 South Jackson St.

WANTED—Two hustling captains of baseball teams, 15 years old or under, to call on Mr. Miller at 2 o'clock, tonight, at Empire Hotel.

NEW beautiful upright grand piano, in box at depot; must sell quick. Listed $50; price $35. Prefer cash or part cash, balance on time. J. H. Phillips, Sharon, Wis. Quick.

WANTED—Immediately—Place on farm for experienced man. Mrs. E. McGinty, 256 W. Milwaukee St.

WANTED—Information about Bertin Greenwald, who was taken from State School at Seaside at the age of 14 years and is supposed to have returned home as a lawyer in Janesville some years ago. Anyone knowing his present whereabouts please correspond with W. S. Austin, Evansville, Wis.

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—A furnished room; suitable for two girls; with or without board. 161 N. Franklin St.

FOR RENT—or Sale—Romington type writer in first class condition. Inquire at Gazette office.

FOR RENT—A lower six-room flat; modern conveniences. Inquire at 11 Yuba St., corner Walker, or telephone 250.

FOR RENT—Furnished room suitable for light housekeeping. 104 S. Academy St.

FOR RENT—House, barn, tobacco shed and four acres of land. P. O. corner of Third and Benton avenues. Address D. W. Pound, or call.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Six large room house with two lots, corner Broadway and Clinton streets. Price $1000. Inquire at 38 Prospect Ave.

SEVERAL Good bargains in farms and city homes. If you are interested, call and see us. Money to loan on good security at low rate. Scott & Sherman, Real Estate, Bonds and Insurance Agents, Phoenix Block, 21 West Milwaukee St., Janesville, Wis.

FOR SALE—Now seven room house; all modern conveniences; sewer and copper storm sash; hot water; wired. New phone 181.

FOR SALE—A Bargain—Seven room house and barn. Inquire at 71 Palm St.

FOR SALE—Good brick house; St. Franklin St. street; fine lot; Chatham St. cheap; fine Forest Park lot; house and lot in Spring Brook. Money to loan. F. L. Clemens, 101 W. Milwaukee St.

FOR SALE—Thoroughbred White Plymouth Rock eggs for hatching. Inquire of Alex. Buchanan.

FOR SALE—House and lot in Fourth ward. Large garden; small fruits. A bargain. F. P. Grove, S. Main St.

FOR SALE—120 acre farm in good German Lutheran settlement; price $2500 for quick sale, including some machinery and timothy hay. Possession given at once. Export & Pratt, Grocers, Janesville, Wis.

FOR SALE—Team of heavy horses. Old phone 343.

FOR SALE—Bred Plymouth Rock eggs for hatching. Old phone 3392; 232 Washington St.

FOR SALE—Polled Durham bulls from six months to 18 months old. E. R. Boynton, Avoca, Wis.

FOR SALE—Household goods; dressers; box, rockers, etc., at the Farmers' Road. Thursday and Friday.

DR. JAMES MILLS
Eye, Ear, Nose & Throat.
Specialist.
Glasses Accurately Fitted.
Office—25 West Milwaukee St.
Both phones. JANESVILLE, WIS.

Very Low Excursion Rates to Louisville, Ky.
Via the North-Western line. Excursion tickets will be sold March 15 to 18, inclusive, with favorable return limits, on account American Bowling Congress. Apply to agents Chicago & North-Western R'y.

VOTER SEES IT IN A NEW LIGHT

Says "Gazette's Diamond Contest Is Old Fashioned Campaign With All The Ingredients."

EVANSVILLE DOES SOME BOOSTING

Miss Ames And Mr. Bullard Move Up Near The Top Of Their List.

The following shows the results of the balloting to six o'clock last night:

LADIES

MRS. WM. E. SPICER—Janesville Lodge D. of R. 2109

MISS ELLA WILLS—W. H. Sargent Corps W. R. C. 1740

MRS. MAEEL DUNWIDDIE—Degree of Honor. 1584

HALLIE A. AMES—Evansville M. E. Church. 357

MISS ADDIE BURRINGTON—Milton Junction R. N. A. 354

MRS. M. RABYOR—St. Patrick's Church. 203

MISS MAMIE GARVIN—St. Patrick's Church. 202

MISS FANNY RYCKMAN—Laodi Band. 144

MRS. ALICE MASON—R. N. A. 69

MISS ANNA BISHOP—St. Joseph's, Edgerton. 55

MISS CHARLOTTE SKINNER—Edgerton Chapter O. E. S. 36

MRS. DAVID BROWN—D. of R. No. 26. 33

MISS MAE CONROY—W. C. O. F. 24

MRS. GUS BAKER—W. I. U. L. E. 15

MRS. ANNIE KIENOW—Rock River Hive L. O. T. M. 7

MRS. M. S. KELLLOGG—I. O. G. T. 6

BERTHA HOGAN—L. A. A. O. H. 6

MISS TENA LUCKFIELD—Hanover. 6

MRS. HETTIE MERRILL—Edgerton Camp R. N. A. 6

MISS MINNIE EDWARDS—Magnolia Advent S. S. 6

MISS CATHERINE BUTTON—Milton Junction O. E. S. 3

MISS LOIS DUNN—Orfordville. 3

MISS GRACE RYAN—Janesville. 2

BERTHA GLEASON—L. A. A. O. H. 1

GENTLEMEN

ALVA L. HEMMENS—Ind. Ord. Foresters. 2370

ED. O. SMITH—Equitable Fraternal Union. 1750

D. T. FISH—A. F. & A. M. 1145

J. F. RUSSELL—B. of L. E. 570

JOHN NICHOLS—Janesville Aerle F. O. E. 431

FRED MCKINNEY—Edgerton Lodge K. P. 357

CHAS. BULLARD—Evansville K. P. 257

IRVIN P. HINKLEY—Milton Jct. Camp M. W. A. 225

JOSEPH CONNERS—Knights of Columbus. 224

DAVID BROWN—I. O. O. F. No. 14. 33

N. DILGER—A. O. U. W. 26

ED. S. FALTER—Shoe Workers. 21

EARL GATES—Congregational Church. 21

REV. J. T. TIPPETT—Janesville M. E. Church. 17

RICHARD GRIFFITH—Rock River Tent K. O. T. M. 16

JOHN GLEASON—Letter Carriers. 13

JAY GREEN—Clinton Y. M. C. A. 12

A. E. BADGER—Modern Woodmen. 10

DR. F. T. RICHARDS—Y. M. C. A. 9

DR. W. MCHESENEY—Edgerton Lodge A. F. A. M. 8

MERWIN BECK—Orfordville. 7

MICHAEL RABYOR—I. O. G. T. 6

WIRT WRIGHT—Congregational Church, Edgerton. 4

J. E. CLARK—C. O. F. 3

W. F. SHUMWAY—B. of L. E. 2

That the Gazette diamond contest is no longer a voting contest, in the accepted meaning of the term, is the opinion of a voter who claims to have given the matter some thought. "It's just an old-fashioned election time" is the way he put it as he dropped his ballot in the box. "It has all the ingredients of the average political campaign," he said, "and they're getting around to ask me for my votes before breakfast in the morning, so I figure it's just a grown people's campaign and not a voting contest at all."

If it can be said that the Gazette contest occupies so much higher a plane than the average enterprise of its kind that it can be dignified as an "old-fashioned election time" the credit must be given to the people of Rock county whom it was intended to reach. They have made it what it is. Their hearty co-operation and the spirit of fair play and good natured rivalry that has characterized all of those who have been voted for are by far the most pleasing features of the struggle and it is hoped and believed these features will predominate to the end. If they do, those who win and those who go down to defeat will come out of the race with something far better than "precious gems"—the knowledge that they have many friends who sincerely wish them well, whose help was forthcoming when it was needed.

The "star spangled banners" arrived yesterday and it is not too much to say that they attracted more attention to Hall and Sayles' window than any display that has been seen on Milwaukee street in many days.

They are of banner silk of the finest texture, the field of stars is hand-embroidered and they are equipped with jointed cherry poles, surmounted by brass eagles and cord and tassels of silk. They were made by the American Flag Co. of New York and Chicago, and they are beauties.

There were two peculiarities about the balloting yesterday. The grand total for the day was just seven votes less than that of Monday and the totals for the ladies and gentlemen lacked but two votes of a tie. The former had 1938 and the latter 1936.

Miss Wills received the best support in her list with 744 votes. Mrs. Spicer had 620; Miss Ames of Evansville, 336; Miss Dunwiddie, 146; Miss Burrington, 48; Mrs. Rabyor, 38; Miss Ryckman, 26; Miss Conroy, 13; Mrs. Baker, 11; Miss Skinner, 8; and Mrs. Mason, 6. Mr. Smith was the favorite in his list with 723 votes.

Mr. Fish received 673; Mr. Bullard, 336; Mr. Russell, 72; Mr. Hemmens, 48; Mr. Hinkley, 48; Mr. Connors, 29; Rev. J. T. Tippet, 15; Mr. Falter, 11; Mr. Nichols, 7; Mr. Gates, 6; Mr. McKinney, 5; Mr. Beck, 4; and 3 votes, each, were to Dr. Richards, Mr. Badger and Mr. Griffith. Miss Wills secured second place again.

Mr. Fish moved up to third place and Evansville moved Miss Ames up to fifth place and Mr. Bullard to sixth place.

REGULATIONS.
The voting in the Gazette Diamond Contest will be by ballot, clipped from regular issues of the Daily and Semi-Weekly Gazette and by voting certificates issued with subscription receipts to The Gazette.

Ballots clipped from The Gazette will count one vote each for the persons named thereon when voted in conformity with these regulations within one week of date of issue.

Voting certificates will bear no time limit and may be retained and voted at any time during the contest at the will of the holder. They will be issued with subscription receipts to the Daily and Semi-Weekly Gazette as provided by the following subscription table.

BACK SUBSCRIPTIONS.
1 month, 50c straight. 26 votes
Renewals in Advance, Daily Gazette.
3 months, $1.25. 78 votes
6 months, $2.50. 156 votes
1 year, $5.00. 312 votes

Daily Gazette, by mail, not less than one year, per year, $3; outside the county, $4 per year. 312 votes

Semi-Weekly Gazette, $1.50 per year, 104 votes.
Semi-Weekly Gazette, 75c per 6 months, in advance, 52 votes.
For New Subscriptions in Advance,
1 month, 50c. 26 votes
3 months, $1.25. 78 votes
6 months, $2.50. 156 votes
1 year, $5.00. 312 votes

Daily Gazette, by mail not less than one year, per year, $3; outside the county, $4 per year. 488 votes

Semi-Weekly Gazette, $1.50 per year, 104 votes.
Semi-Weekly Gazette, 75c per 6 months. 78 votes

Votes will be received and counted only when cast for members of a church, fraternal, labor, social or other worthy organization holding meetings in Janesville or Rock county.

Votes will not be accepted for employees of The Gazette office and votes cannot be transferred after they have been once voted and included in the returns.

Ballots must be clipped from regular issues of The Gazette, and no extra copies of this paper will be printed during the contest for the sake of the ballot contained therein.

The trophies to be voted for consist of two diamond rings, one for a lady and one for a gentleman, each valued over $100, and two silk society flags, each valued at $50.

The Gazette diamonds are to be awarded to the lady and gentleman having the largest number of votes at the close of the contest and the flags to those having the second largest number; for presentation to the society or organization which they may select.

A committee of representative citizens will be named to canvass the vote at the close of the balloting and make the awards.

The polls will close at 7 o'clock p. m., Saturday, April 14.

Semi-Weekly Gazette, $1.50 per year, 104 votes.

Semi-Weekly Gazette, 75c per 6 months, in advance, 52 votes.

For New Subscriptions in Advance,
1 month, 50c. 26 votes
3 months, $1.25. 78 votes
6 months, $2.50. 156 votes
1 year, $5.00. 312 votes

Daily Gazette, by mail not less than one year, per year, $3; outside the county, $4 per year. 488 votes

Semi-Weekly Gazette, $1.50 per year, 104 votes.
Semi-Weekly Gazette, 75c per 6 months. 78 votes

Votes will be received and counted only when cast for members of a church, fraternal, labor, social or other worthy organization holding meetings in Janesville or Rock county.

Votes will not be accepted for employees of The Gazette office and votes cannot be transferred after they have been once voted and included in the returns.

Ballots must be clipped from regular issues of The Gazette, and no extra copies of this paper will be printed during the contest for the sake of the ballot contained therein.

The trophies to be voted for consist of two diamond rings, one for a lady and one for a gentleman, each valued over $100, and two silk society flags, each valued at $50.

The Gazette diamonds are to be awarded to the lady and gentleman having the largest number of votes at the close of the contest and the flags to those having the second largest number; for presentation to the society or organization which they may select.

A committee of representative citizens will be named to canvass the vote at the close of the balloting and make the awards.

The polls will close at 7 o'clock p. m., Saturday, April 14.

ROAD WINS IN CROSSING CASE

Contest Between Litchfield and Illinois Central Defeat for City.

Springfield, Ill., March 21.—The appellate court in an opinion rendered in the case of the St. Louis & North-western Railroad company against the Illinois Central Railroad company reversed the decision of the Litchfield city court. The decision of the Litchfield city court held that the city council had power to designate where crossings should be placed regardless of the state board of railroad and warehouse commissioners. The appellate court holds that the state railroad and warehouse commission has power to locate crossings regardless of the action of the city council. The injunction of the city court of Litchfield to restrain the Illinois Central from making a crossing is reversed and an order is entered to dismiss the bill.

There were two peculiarities about the balloting yesterday. The grand total for the day was just seven votes less than that of Monday and the totals for the ladies and gentlemen lacked but two votes of a tie. The former had 1938 and the latter 1936.

Miss Wills received the best support in her list with 744 votes. Mrs. Spicer had 620; Miss Ames of Evansville, 336; Miss Dunwiddie, 146; Miss Burrington, 48; Mrs. Rabyor, 38; Miss Ryckman, 26; Miss Conroy, 13; Mrs. Baker, 11; Miss Skinner, 8; and Mrs. Mason, 6. Mr. Smith was the favorite in his list with 723 votes.

Mr. Fish received 673; Mr. Bullard, 336; Mr. Russell, 72; Mr. Hemmens, 48; Mr. Hinkley, 48; Mr. Connors, 29; Rev. J. T. Tippet, 15; Mr. Falter, 11; Mr. Nichols, 7; Mr. Gates, 6; Mr. McKinney, 5; Mr. Beck, 4; and 3 votes, each, were to Dr. Richards, Mr. Badger and Mr. Griffith. Miss Wills secured second place again.

Mr. Fish moved up to third place and Evansville moved Miss Ames up to fifth place and Mr. Bullard to sixth place.

REGULATIONS.
The voting in the Gazette Diamond Contest will be by ballot, clipped from regular issues of the Daily and Semi-Weekly Gazette and by voting certificates issued with subscription receipts to The Gazette.

Ballots clipped from The Gazette will count one vote each for the persons named thereon when voted in conformity with these regulations within one week of date of issue.

Voting certificates will bear no time limit and may be retained and voted at any time during the contest at the will of the holder. They will be issued with subscription receipts to the Daily and Semi-Weekly Gazette as provided by the following subscription table.

BACK SUBSCRIPTIONS.
1 month, 50c straight. 26 votes
Renewals in Advance, Daily Gazette.
3 months, $1.25. 78 votes
6 months, $2.50. 156 votes
1 year, $5.00. 312 votes

Daily Gazette, by mail, not less than one year, per year, $3; outside the county, $4 per year. 488 votes

Semi-Weekly Gazette, $1.50 per year, 104 votes.
Semi-Weekly Gazette, 75c per 6 months, in advance, 52 votes.

For New Subscriptions in Advance,
1 month, 50c. 26 votes
3 months, $1.25. 78 votes
6 months, $2.50. 156 votes
1 year, $5.00. 312 votes

Daily Gazette, by mail not less than one year, per year, $3; outside the county, $4 per year. 488 votes

Semi-Weekly Gazette, $1.50 per year, 104 votes.
Semi-Weekly Gazette, 75c per 6 months. 78 votes

Votes will be received and counted only when cast for members of a church, fraternal, labor, social or other worthy organization holding meetings in Janesville or Rock county.

Votes will not be accepted for employees of The Gazette office and votes cannot be transferred after they have been once voted and included in the returns.

Ballots must be clipped from regular issues of The Gazette, and no extra copies of this paper will be printed during the contest for the sake of the ballot contained therein.

The trophies to be voted for consist of two diamond rings, one for a lady and one for a gentleman, each valued over $100, and two silk society flags, each valued at $50.

The Gazette diamonds are to be awarded to the lady and gentleman having the largest number of votes at the close of the contest and the flags to those having the second largest number; for presentation to the society or organization which they may select.

A committee of representative citizens will be named to canvass the vote at the close of the balloting and make the awards.

The polls will close at 7 o'clock p. m., Saturday, April 14.

Have you weakness of any kind, stomach, back, or any organs of the body? Don't dope yourself with ordinary medicine. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is the supreme curative power. 35 cents. Smith Drug Co.

May Punish Mob Members.
Washington, March 21.—Some of the members of the supreme court of the United States are considering the advisability of an attempt to bring about the punishment of the members of the Chattanooga mob, which Monday night lynched Ed Johnson, a negro, whose legal execution was stayed by an order by the supreme court. The department of justice also is considering action in the matter.

Tickets on sale March 20th and April 3d and 17th, good returning 21 days from date of sale. For further information, consult your local agent, or address
C. L. STONE, Gen'l. Pass. Agent.

Every woman knows that a polished table collects so much dust in a day that she can write her name on it.

The same thing happens to a soda cracker exposed to the air—sufficient reason for buying Uneeda Biscuit the only soda cracker. Perfectly protected in a dust tight, moisture proof package.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

5c

Spring Coats

The new ones are now here and on sale; all the desirable models for the coming season just in from New York.—Coverts, Tweeds, Cheviots, Broadcloths.—Fitted Coats, Swing Back Coats, Box Coats, Loose Back Coats, in 27, 30, 45 and 50 inch lengths, with plenty of the grey mixtures in the various lengths. Prices on spring coats begin at $5, and at $6.75, $7.50 and $10 there are some exceptional values.—No matter what price coat you want, we have it and in the style you will like.

More Suits

This week another new showing of Suits.—Upwards of a hundred new nobby Suits now here for your approval.

Simpson
DRY GOODS

Low Rates To South Dakota

March 20 and 27,
April 3, 10, 17 and 24, 1906.

To all points in North and South Dakota, on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, and to many other points in those states via the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway.

The successful crops of the last seven years, and the opportunities now offered the farmer, rancher, or merchant in South Dakota should induce every man desiring to better his present situation to investigate the openings

THE JANESVILLE GAZETTE

Business Office Open Saturday Evenings.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.

MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESS.
WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Generally fair and colder tonight and Thursday, except snow near Lake Superior, cold-wave in western portion.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
Daily Edition—By Carrier
One Year, $3.00
Six Months, $1.80
Three Months, $1.00
CASH IN ADVANCE.
One Year, $3.00
Six Months, $1.80
Three Months, $1.00
WEEKLY EDITION—One Year, $1.50
Long Distance Telephone, No. 77.
Business Office, 77-79
Editorial Rooms, 77-79

"Everything is impossible until you see a success." Your own business is probably bigger now than you thought possible before you became a shrewd (which means a "large") advertiser.

Now that the primary is over how did you like it.

Are you one of the men who tried to split your ballot?

Vote against the Dunn Pocket law. Do not forget this.

For the information of some: They still sell lead in western Wisconsin.

The Beloit fight is most interesting in that it is non-partisan.

The bad muss at Lake Geneva seems to have been swallowed up in oblivion.

Jesse Earle was congratulated last evening on again being nominated to office.

The heavy vote yesterday demonstrated that local politics still interest the average man.

Rule or ruin policy does not always pay best in the long run. It is a long road that has no turn in it.

Here's to the next fair attorney. May he prove to be successful in fulfilling his ante-election promises.

Nobody has yet found out where the Free Press of Beloit stands on any question save Beloit post office.

Edgerton and Stoughton have not yet patched up peace since their bitter war of quarantine and anti-quarantine.

It is safe to say that city treasurer Jim Rathens feels relieved now it is all over and his campaign is practically ended.

Did you ever stop to consider how much good the mail order houses did Janesville when you spend your money for their goods?

Despite the cold weather the voters got out and demonstrated by their vote whom they desired for the different city offices.

So the primaries are over and we know who is to be the candidate in the respective wards at the election two weeks from today.

The "Reform Republican Club" has been temporarily dropped owing to the possibility of a vacancy in the probate court judgeship.

The farmers known how Cooper voted when their interests were at stake and they do not forget this act of friendship on his part.

So the junior senator is to campaign in the first district for Cooper. Evidently Mr. Jeffris candidacy has frightened the politician from Racine.

Think over that question of circuit judgeship and determine for yourself if you want the lawyers to dominate your choices or if you yourself want something to say about the selection of your judge.

Perhaps it is more important to develop the zinc and lead fields of the western part of the state and neglect your home city but it has not always been considered good ethics.

BELOIT JUDGESHIP.

Beloit is to have a new municipal court and has two candidates seeking judicial honors. William Bates and C. D. Rosa. William Bates is perhaps the best known of the two through his long residence in Janesville and Beloit. Mr. Rosa is making a whirlwind campaign and will probably be elected. He is a graduate of the state university and a lawyer of exceptional ability. He is strongly endorsed by the Beloit Daily News and by the best element of Beloit. As the court is to be for Beloit even though the whole county votes upon it and Mr. Rosa is strongly endorsed by his home paper he must be worthy of consideration at the polls on April 3.

SEES THE DANGER.

The Beloit Daily News is alive to the possibility of the election of Judge Grimm to the circuit bench and adds its word of warning to that of the Gazette to the voters of the county to vote for a home candidate. Its editorial on this subject is printed below.

The Daily News believes it will be impossible for Rock county voters to unite on either Judge Dunwiddie or Judge Sale—both having so many supporters—and unless one of the candidates can be prevailed upon to withdraw in favor of the other neither will be elected. Even in the event of the withdrawal of one of the Rock county candidates it will prove difficult to overcome the work of Judge Grimm in his own behalf.

Rock county is certain to lose the judgeship unless it presents but one candidate to the voters on April 3.

JUDGE DUNWIDDIE.

In the announcement on Saturday last that the Gazette considered it imperative that all voters should unite on Judge Dunwiddie as their candidate for circuit judge in order to save the circuit judgeship for Rock county the Gazette cast no reflections upon Judge Sale or the gentlemen managing his campaign. It stated clearly at that time that advice from Green and Jefferson counties showed that Judge Dunwiddie would poll a heavy vote in these two counties and that without support of these counties no Rock county candidate could hope to win out. Judge Sale is an admirable man for whom the Gazette has the highest respect and his able management of the probate court and his reputation as an attorney has won him the approbation of his associates. However the fact remains that he is but little known outside Rock county and the successful candidate at the coming election must have some support at least in Green and Jefferson counties. This Judge Dunwiddie has through long acquaintance and his seven years on the bench. Taking this into consideration he is the logical candidate. It is the people of the county that the Gazette appeals to not the attorneys for the matter of removing the headquarters of the court to Jefferson would not mean a hardship to them but to the persons who pay their fees. Judge Grimm is the most formidable candidate in the field. While some of his methods of securing votes might be questioned in ethics of bar nominations, he has certainly gathered about him a clientele that does not realize what his election would mean to Rock county. With these ideas in mind the Gazette urges all voters to support Judge Dunwiddie for re-election and save the court for Rock county.

IS IN ACCORD.

Usually the Milwaukee Free Press makes a violent opposition of anything that savors of giving an office to a man who has opposed Governor La Follette in his political ambitions. The following editorial is however a surprise to the state at large and as such is republished with the hearty approval of all who look towards party harmony as one of the outcomes of the present campaign, soon to be opened. Judge Keyes is one of the old wheel horses of the republican party and has done active service since its infancy. As postmaster at Madison he has given satisfaction to all. The Free Press says:

Senator Spooner has recommended the appointment of "Old Boss" Keyes as postmaster out at Madison. This looks as if the two senators have agreed on a division of the territory of the state. Spooner probably taking the western and La Follette the eastern judicial district.

It is unusual for both senators from a state to claim the same city as their home; but Spooner and La Follette do certainly live in Madison when they are in the state.

When Mr. Otjen "appointed" Richardson postmaster here in Milwaukee he stepped on the toes of Mr. Stafford, who also represents a part of Milwaukee in congress. Then the trouble began. We can not think that Mr. Spooner has not profited by the blunder of the Milwaukee representative, and that he has taken this step to secure the retention of Keyes without consulting his colleague, or unless the division of territory has been made that gives the Madison office as his plunder.

It is not understood that Senator La Follette is opposed to Keyes or that he would object to his re-appointment. He could not on the same reasonable grounds on which he announced his displeasure with the appointment of Wilder. Keyes is objectionable politically, being a stalwart, but in no other way. The senator and the postmaster have always been on the most friendly terms personally.

Everybody is friends with Keyes, anyhow. And when it comes to running a postoffice, if all of the offices were run as well as that at Madison there would never be any change of postmasters.

Domestic Tragedy.

The cook wept.
Her mistress, standing before her, quivered in queenly wrath.
"You do not deny it, then?"
"N-no, ma'am."
"There were seventeen leaves in the head of lettuce my husband bought with his week's salary. He counted them. So did I. Now there are only sixteen. You took one!"
The cook bowed her head in shame.
—Newark News.

Apologies Understood.

"Mother, may I go out to fly?"
"Yes, my daughter, fair."
But be sure to stay upon the ground
And don't go near the air."
—New York World.

Mother, may I go out to eat?

"Yes, if you'll be good.
Order the bill of fare complete.
But don't you touch the food!"
C. W. T. in Chicago Tribune.

Dr. B. F. Crummer, formerly of Kresport and Warren, Ill., is dangerously ill from apoplexy in Omaha.

WHY YOU SHOULD VOTE FOR JUDGE DUNWIDDIE

THE CIRCUIT JUDGESHIP.

Nobody claims that any one of the candidates for circuit judge is a better lawyer or better equipped by training and experience for the office than the present circuit judge, Judge Dunwiddie, who has discharged its duties with such ability and impartiality for the past seven years. Only one thing is urged in behalf of the other three candidates, and that is, their popularity as county judges. The people of this county, for example, are satisfied and pleased with Judge Dunwiddie's administration of the office; no one thought of suggesting any change until some of the lawyers started a campaign for Judge Sale for the office, and now he is being actively supported by a number of the lawyers. The people are not anxious to displace Judge Dunwiddie in order to put Judge Sale in his place, the great majority of the people being thoroughly satisfied with the present situation. We now have two excellent judges, each especially able, skilled and experienced in his present office. Judge Dunwiddie in the circuit court and Judge Sale in the county court. The desire of the people of the county is to keep them both in their present places, and they have just re-elected Judge Sale for a four year's term. The lawyers who desire a change from a small portion of the community, and the question is being asked among the people whether these men are to be allowed to be elect or defeat at their pleasure. The fact that, under the circumstances, it is impossible to elect Judge Sale to the office, with the home vote divided between him and Judge Dunwiddie, and that the result of Judge Sale's candidacy may be to defeat both him and Judge Dunwiddie and give the circuit judgeship to an adjoining county, seems to have no effect upon the lawyers who are pushing Judge Sale for the office. —Gazette of yesterday.

Janesville desires to keep the circuit judgeship in the hands of a Rock county man. A coterie of Janesville lawyers is to blame for the mix-up and if Rock county loses the judgeship no one else is to blame. The citizens of the judicial circuit, outside of the lawyers who have axes to grind, were perfectly satisfied with Judge Dunwiddie and expected and desired to see him succeed himself without opposition, and such would be the case only for the action of some of the members of the Rock county bar. —Monroe Daily Journal of March 17th.

A well-informed and impartial Green county man estimates that Judge Dunwiddie will receive one-half of the whole vote of Green county at the coming election. He says that Judge Sale will get practically nothing there, and aside from a small vote for Judge Grimm, Judge Baker will get the other half.

PRESS COMMENT.

Goddess in Pitiful Plight.
Milwaukee Sentinel: The goddess of "reform" as a beleaguered shrew with a much rake cuts a sorry figure.

Human Pumping Station.
Milwaukee Free Press: All the blood in a man's body passes through his heart once every two minutes.

May Work The Other Way.
Exchange: The registration at Milwaukee is almost as large as two years ago, which looks ominous for Mayor Rose.

Evinces A Broad Optimism.
El Paso Herald: Porto Rico is reported overrun with grafters; that shows the island is prosperous enough to have something worth stealing.

St. Patrick's Day Reformed.
Exchange: There was a time when St. Patrick's day was famous for its free fights, but it is now a nice, quiet occasion spent in contemplation of a good saint.

Good Bye, Free Seeds.
Milwaukee News: A statesman that by distributing government seeds causes two hollyhocks to grow where one hollyhock grew before has not lived in vain.

Bound To Kick, Either Way.
La Crosse Leader-Press: The Milwaukee Sentinel makes an appointment which says "think how much greater the anti-administration clatter would be if General Wood had botched the job."

Purely Corn.
St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Glucose is extracted from corn, and it certainly seems like rubbing it in when molasses is made from glucose and the maple flavor imparted with the cob.

Just Human Nature.
Superior Telegram: A Michigan deputy sheriff chased a prize fight party across the line and then concluded that his official duties were obliterated by lack of jurisdiction and sat with the rest of the spectators and enjoyed the fight—and now there is a duce of a row about it.

And So It Ever Was.
La Crosse Tribune: Walsh's hearing has again been postponed. Between convicting best trust officials and rich bank swindlers, the government seems to have its hands full. However, several thousands of petty bread thieves, etc., are rushed off to the bastilles daily in this grand, free country. So we get some justice, anyway.

The Wisconsin supreme court has granted leave to bring a suit testing whether the state bank examiners' department comes under jurisdiction of the Wisconsin civil service law.

REVENUE CUTTER WORK

Value of Service Organized by Alexander Hamilton.

FINE RECORD IN YELLOW JACK WAR

How Vessels Have Done Good Work in Enforcing Quarantine Against Dread Disease In Waters About New Orleans—Service May Be Used to Augment the Navy In Time of War.

Six small sailing vessels patrolling our Atlantic coast in search of smugglers made the beginning of the revenue cutter service that has recently proved its value in enforcing quarantine against yellow fever, says the Washington correspondent of the New York Post. When Alexander Hamilton taxed the resources of the youthful states to equip boats for detective duty under the treasury department of 1790 no fertile imagination pictured the variety of service that would be demanded or the good that could be done by their successors in the next hundred years and more. That service was the basis of the United States navy, but a comparatively few years brought a parting of courses, and while one arm has been developed to overawe and destroy, the other has steadily extended to protect and help the ways of peace. Revenue cutters have saved thousands of lives. They annually visit the farthest points in the American possessions, and they carry news and assistance to the lonely and shipwrecked.

The service maintained on the quarantine lines about New Orleans and the district infected with yellow fever furnishes a single illustration. Five vessels have patrolled the coast line night and day to capture and inspect the fishing craft and larger vessels, that try to break through. Over 600 vessels have already been held up and inspected, many being sent to quarantine station at Gulfport and Ship Island for disinfection, and further examination of suspected cases of fever. It has been a tedious, thankless duty, with constant exposure to the dangers of fever, and one of the crew of the Winona was taken with the disease and sent to the marine hospital.

Captain W. G. Ross, chief of the service, who was in charge of the quarantine for six weeks, excited much comment by the fearless way he went about. He relied entirely on his rugged physique and attention to his general surroundings for protection, and as he has remarked since returning to Washington, had no fear of contagion. He slept in quarters from which mosquitoes were excluded as far as possible. He has less fear of the disease now than ever and believes good health and sanitary conditions prove ample protection.

The revenue cutter service has been under the supervision of the treasury department since those first small boats were sent out by Hamilton, except on occasions when our wars have led the president to take advantage of the statute to place the vessels under the navy department. The duties include the enforcement of all laws affecting the maritime interests of the United States, the prevention of illicit traffic by sea, compelling all craft to comply with legal requirements as to ships' papers, lights, inspection and passenger laws, and the rescue and assistance of distressed vessels and crews—in fact, the cutter service is the great humanitarian branch of our government, its activities extending over land and sea. Its varied duties have furnished subjects for many stories of fiction. "One officer now in the service remarked recently that he was first interested in its possibilities through reading J. Fenimore Cooper's "Wing and Wing."

Those in the service point with pride to the record of lives saved. During the Spanish-American war the cutter Hudson, under command of Captain F. H. Newcomb, rescued the torpedo boat Winslow from the damaging fire of the Spaniards at Cerdan, while one of the minor achievements noted was the voyage of the McCulloch to Hongkong with the first news of Admiral Dewey's victory at Manila.

The cruise of the revenue cutter Bear and the rescue of more than 250 sailors from shipwrecked whaling vessels at Point Barrow, was an achievement worthy of special mention. The Bear reached San Francisco in December, 1907, when orders were issued dispatching the vessel on a return trip in the midst of an arctic winter to save the whalers. The voyage was successful and would have attracted much attention had not the victories of our navy in the war with Spain overshadowed all else. This cutter continues its annual visits to Point Barrow, which is the northernmost point of the continent. The cutter R. C. Perry has this year visited Attu island, the westernmost of the Aleutian chain, and found three white fishermen who had seen no white men nor had any news from the outside world for a year. Their first question was: "Who is president of the United States?"

While the cutter service is under existing law a part of the civil establishment, it may become available as a part of the military force of the country. The officers and crews must be proficient in naval drills and have practical knowledge of the use of firearms. Although the burden of the service is in the protection of the revenue and the enforcement of statutes affecting maritime interests, it has been abundantly shown in our wars that the boats of the revenue service prove of assistance in the navy. The life of the officers is not always peaceful, and young men who seek this service may expect nearly as much fighting experience as those who go into the larger arms of the service.

William Tell's row of Cleveland and Raymond Westley of Lorain, O., were overcome by gas, the former being dead when found. Westley is in a dying condition.

Does your baking powder contain alum? Look upon the label. Use only a powder whose label shows it to be made with cream of tartar.

NOTE.—Safety lies in buying only the Royal Baking Powder, which is the best cream of tartar baking powder that can be had.

UNWITTING HELPER
WILL BE PUNISHED

Carrier of Smuggled Goods May Be Confiscated by Government, So Says Court.

Washington, March 19.—According to a decision by the United States district court for the district of New Jersey, any vessel, vehicle, horse or other animal used in the transportation of smuggled goods, even after the same have passed the customs barrier, may be forfeited to the government, notwithstanding the fact that the owners thereof may have had no interest in or knowledge of the smuggling operations. The treasury department is in thorough sympathy with this ruling and will enforce it on the Canadian border particularly, where there is no little smuggling by horse and wagon, sailboat, launch and other means of transportation.

It appears that the U. S. attorney for the district of Hoboken, N. J., filed an information against one black horse, one wagon, and one set of single harness, seized by the treasury department for having been used in the transportation of 54½ pounds of Sumatra leaf tobacco, which was smuggled into this country. This tobacco was landed at Hoboken from one of the North German Lloyd steamers on March 17, 1904, and was conveyed from the dock by the claimant he having avoided paying duty thereon. There was no evidence to show that the claimant or its driver of the horse and wagon had knowledge of the use to which they were being put, but the court held that this was immaterial. The court declared the forfeiture of the conveyance, which belonged to the Hudson Steam Laundry Co. to be legal under section 3001, 3002, and 3003 of the revised statutes.

HAMMOND ELEVATOR CO.

From J. M. Gibson, Broker, 204 Jackson Block, Janesville.

CHICAGO, March 21, 1906.
Wheat	Open	High	Low	Close
Dec.	78 3/4	79 1/4	78 3/4	79 1/4
Sept.	77 1/2	78 1/4	77 1/2	78 1/4
May	77 1/2	78 1/4	77 1/2	78 1/4
Oct.	77 1/2	78 1/4	77 1/2	78 1/4
Dec.	41 1/4	41 3/4	41 1/4	41 3/4
Sept.	41 1/4	41 3/4	41 1/4	41 3/4
May	41 1/4	41 3/4	41 1/4	41 3/4
Oct.	41 1/4	41 3/4	41 1/4	41 3/4
Dec.	37 1/4	37 3/4	37 1/4	37 3/4
Sept.	37 1/4	37 3/4	37 1/4	37 3/4
May	37 1/4	37 3/4	37 1/4	37 3/4
Oct.	37 1/4	37 3/4	37 1/4	37 3/4
Dec.	15 3/4	16 1/4	15 3/4	16 1/4
Sept.	15 3/4	16 1/4	15 3/4	16 1/4
May	15 3/4	16 1/4	15 3/4	16 1/4
Oct.	15 3/4	16 1/4	15 3/4	16 1/4
Dec.	8 1/2	8 3/4	8 1/2	8 3/4
Sept.	8 1/2	8 3/4	8 1/2	8 3/4
May	8 1/2	8 3/4	8 1/2	8 3/4
Oct.	8 1/2	8 3/4	8 1/2	8 3/4

CHICAGO CAR LOT RECEIPTS.

Today, Tomorrow, Sat. Tomorrow

Wheat	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
Corn	75 1/2	75 1/2	75 1/2
Oats	75 1/2	75 1/2	75 1/2
Hogs	132 1/2	132 1/2	132 1/2

Live Stock Market.

NORTHWEST RECEIPTS (Wheat)

Minneapolis	230	230	230
St. Louis	67 1/2	67 1/2	67 1/2
Chicago	67 1/2	67 1/2	67 1/2

RECEIPTS TODAY.

Opening	Hours 23000	strong to be higher
Left over 400
Light	6 20 25 47
Mid	6 20 25 47
Heavy	6 20 25 47
Ref.	6 20 25 47
Cattle 1800	steady to be higher
Sheep 2200	weak
Kansas City 12000	1000	6000
St. Louis 11000	5500	5000
S. A. M.
Hogs steady
Light	6 20 25 47
Mid	6 20 25 47
Heavy	6 20 25 47
Ref.	6 20 25 47
Cattle strong	Booves 1 00 20 35; Cows 1 50
St. L. Cattle 2 50 35
Sheep steady	Natives 3 25 35 50; Western 3 25 35 50
Lamb 4 00 45 50; Western 5 00 55 60
New closed weak to be lower
Light	6 10 60 40
Mid	6 10 60 40
Heavy	6 10 60 40
Ref.	6 10 60 40
Cattle steady to slow
Sheep

NOTE.—I wish to state that the engagement of America's Bernhardt, Margaret Anglin, in "Zira" will be one of the very finest dramatic productions ever presented to a Janesville audience, and hope that my efforts in securing the great attraction will be appreciated by the theatre-goers of Janesville.

STATE NOTES.

Mrs. Ballington Booth, while in Ashland on Tuesday, intimated that she may be forced to give up work for a year on account of her health. She will inspect the work at the head of Lake Superior, but will not do any public speaking. She will try the effect of the bracing Lake Superior climate before deciding her future plans. Daniel E. Devoe, said to be the only man in Wisconsin who owns a church, has lost his unique distinction. He was the owner of the Lutheran church at West Salem, but has transferred the church to the La Crosse Valley Evangelical Lutheran Society, the Mindoro Evangelical Lutheran society, and the Burns Evangelical Lutheran society. Because the Milwaukee road operated a mail-car the door of which was not tight, allowing a draft to blow through a crack, H. M. Decker, a mail-clerk residing at Fairmont, Minn., has just been awarded $1,000. The plaintiff was taken ill in La Crosse and suffered a siege of pneu-

Silk Sale..

This week we announce a sale of Silks at a great reduction from standard values. Special: 50 pieces of 65c, 75c and 85c Silks, all at 49c.

New York Suits

Every express is adding to the display, and to gain a correct idea of the modes for the coming season a visit to our department will be instructive. Early buyers will find no trouble in being suited, as the present showings are larger than other stores show in the height of the season.

Alterations free.

Orchard Reid & Co.
DRY GOODS, CLOAKS, MILLINERY

MYERS GRAND OPERA HOUSE

P. L. MYERS, - MANAGER

Phone 609

FRIDAY, MARCH 23

Special Engagement. The Fashionable Event

THE DISTINGUISHED YOUNG ACTRESS

MARGARET ANGLIN

with her own Princess Theatre Company, under direction of Henry Miller, in the Great New York Success,

"ZIRA"

The Original Cast and Production as Seen for 300 Nights at the Princess Theatre, New York.

NOTE.—I wish to state that the engagement of America's Bernhardt, Margaret Anglin, in "Zira" will be one of the very finest dramatic productions ever presented to a Janesville audience, and hope that my efforts in securing the great attraction will be appreciated by the theatre-goers of Janesville.

PETER L. MYERS.

..PRICES..

Orchestra and first four rows Orchestra Circle $1.50; balance Orchestra Circle, $1.00; first four rows Balcony, $1.00; remainder Balcony, 75c; Gallery 50c; box seats, $2.00 and $1.50.

Seats on sale at ticket office Thursday at 9 o'clock.

No telephone orders until 11 a. m. day of sale. Positively no free list. Carriages at 11. All tickets ordered must be called for by 5 o'clock day of performance.

MISS EMMA WIEGLEF

of Milton came to Janesville this week to have a specialist attend to her teeth.

She says that Dr. Richards (who is doing her dental work) really does do painless work.

She affirms that he cut off a tooth, took out a live nerve and fitted on a porcelain crown for her all without hurting her.

These genuine testimonials are very interesting, as they reveal to the general public knowledge of the fact that we have in Janesville a man who is doing the very latest, up-to-date, 20th century, painless dentistry.

And that he is SUCCESSFUL in his claims to painless work.

Office over Hall & Sayles' jewelry store, West Milwaukee street.

Cleaners & Dyers

Suits and Overcoats Cleaned and Pressed.
Made as good as new.

Janesville Steam Dye House
Carl F. Brockhaus, Prop.
69 East Milwaukee St.

TUXEDO CUT PLUG

LEFFINGWELL'S, N. Main Street

West Side Theatre Opens with VAUDEVILLE
March 26th.

John L. Sullivan, Feature act.

PAINT—For all purposes. Prepared House Paints, Varnishes and Enamels. Anything you need, whether you want to paint your house or touch up an old chair, and our experience is freely placed at your disposal if you have any questions to ask.

BLOEDL & RICE
The Main St. Paint Shop.

Buy your Perfumes, Toilet Waters and Complexion Powders.

at KOEBELIN'S
Jewelry and Music House,
Hayes Block.

J. M. GIBSON, COMMISSION BROKER
STOCKS, GRAINS AND PROVISIONS

FOR CASH OR ON MARGIN
PERSONAL ACCOUNTS SOLICITED
Room 204 Jackson Block.

Correspondent, Hammond Elevator Co., Hammond, Ind. Capital stock $200,000, fully paid.

Platteville Mining Stock Bought and Sold on Commission.

Business connections with best brokers in the field. List your stock for sale, with no. Can purchase stock for you in any mine listed, in any district. Buy Empire and Enterprise stock for investment.

THE WEATHER

Temperature last 24 hours taken from registered thermometer at Helm-street's drugstore: highest, 40; low, 23; at 7 a. m., 23; at 3 p. m., 37; wind, west; snow flurries and sunshine.

Real Estate Transfers.
Thomas Gleave to Alice Gleave $1500 lot 4-4 Leonard & Mygatt's Add. Evansville.

John Draht and wife to Lewis Larson $235 e½ se¼ sw¼ sec. 25-3-10. James G. Cox and wife to Marlin Olson $81 1½ acres in sw corner of w½ ne¼ sec. 14-1-10.

Herman E. Long and wife to John Draht $8000 e½ se¼ sec. 21-3-11. John Draht and wife to August Brandenburg $2800 sw¼ se¼ sec. 23-3-11.

John Draht and wife to Herman F. Long $13,700 ne¼ ne¼ sec. 32 & w½ ne¼ sec. 33 & w½ e½ ne¼ sec. 33-3-11.

Abbie L. Scott to Anna B. Hughes $12,000 n½ ne¼ & se¼ of ne¼ sec. 4-2-13.

James Scott and wife to Anna B. Hughes $5000 sw¼ ne¼ s½-2-13. J. R. Currie and wife to Oliver J. Stiles $600 s½ lot 27-9 Wheeler's Add. Beloit.

Ellie D. Adams to J. P. and Elizabeth Currie $900 lot 27-9 Wheeler's Add. Beloit.

Julia E. Thrasher to Louise L. Potter $1200 lot 5, 6 Rosedale Add. Beloit.

James E. Carpenter and wife to Hector T. Scoville $3000 lot 13-4 Ball's Add. Beloit.

Subscribe for The Daily Gazette.

MAXFIELD FOR CITY ATTORNEY

PLURALITY OVER RUGER WAS THIRTEEN VOTES.

TOTAL 2,081 VOTES CAST

Carter Defeated Macloon and Sheridan Won Overwhelming Victory in the Fourth—Watt's Plurality in Third Was 187.

When the election board, consisting of Chairman M. O. Mount of the republican city committee, J. J. Cunningham, and City Clerk A. E. Badger, canvassed the returns this morning it was necessary to draw lots in several instances to determine who should be the party nominees in certain wards. This, of course, happened in no instance where there was a contest, but only where one or the other party had presented no candidate for a given position prior to the primaries. The leading candidates for all but one office on the city ticket, proper, were so well protected by votes from both parties that scattering votes could be neglected. Thus James A. Fathers received both the republican and democratic nomination.

WILLIAM W. WATT
Successful Candidate for Republican Aldermanic Nomination in Third Ward.

tions for city treasurer and the contributions of one democratic or republican vote for each for J. W. Richardson, C. J. McGinley, T. S. Sayles, and J. J. Comstock, were of no avail. A. M. Fisher captured both the republican and democratic nomination for school commissioner at large, his eleven democratic votes insuring him against any contest with Frank George, E. J. Schmidley, J. C. Nichols, Horace McDroy, Francis Grant, W. W. Gillies of Evansville, W. S. Jeffris and David Atwood, each of whom received one complimentary vote—all but the two last named from the democrats. Jesse Earle's 26 democratic votes gave him the nomination on that ticket as well as the republican for justice of the peace, and consequently the names of W. H. Dougherty, Bernard M. Palmer, A. M. Fisher, James Keenan, H. H. Blanchard, and H. L. Maxfield will not appear on the ballot on election day. In the race for the city attorneyship, however, W. H. Dougherty received the democratic nomination, his 72 votes being a clear majority over H. L. Maxfield's 20 democratic votes, William Ruger, Jr.'s 26 democratic votes, and S. D. Tallman's 14, and Fred Burpee's 9.

Aspects of Ward Nominations.
These complimentary votes, however, are likely to make some material difference in the wards. In the first Walter Rice, republican candidate, for the nomination for alderman, received one democratic vote. S. D. Henry Blunk, the election board drew lots and declared Mr. Blunk the democratic nominee. In the same ward George Palmer, republican candidate for constable, received one democratic vote. Charles Horn was similarly favored and the choice by lots resulted in a declaration for Horn as the regular democratic nominee. Eleven democratic votes nominated William Hughes as the democratic candidate for supervisor in the second ward and John Nichols received ten votes as democratic candidate for school commissioner. J. J. Comstock had two democratic votes for constable and so will have no opponents in the persons of Dan Higgins, Hugh Collins, C. P. Newton, and Paddy McGinley, each of whom received one democratic vote. Charles Curtis won two republican votes defeated Charles Blum, Edward Falter, and Edward Kelly—each with one—for the republican nomination for constable in the fourth ward, but Emil Pautz, the democratic candidate, also had two republican votes and won out in the drawing of lots. Edward Rutherford and Hugh Joyce, Sr., each received three republican votes for supervisor in fifth ward; Orville Morse, 1, and George Croft, 2. By lot Edward Rutherford was declared the nominee. Fred O'Donnell received one republican vote for constable in the same ward and will be the nominee unless he formally withdraws. The results in the wards in tabulated form follow:

FIRST WARD
Total vote	344
For Alderman	221
W. H. Merritt (Rep.)	108
W. S. Rice (Rep.)	1
Henry Blunk (Dem.)	1
For Supervisor	280
Geo. Woodruff (Rep.)	278
For Constable	1
Geo. H. Palmer (Rep.)	278
Chas. Horn (Dem.)	1
SECOND WARD
Total vote	320
For Alderman	159
Geo. O. Buchholz (Rep.)	159
Frank H. Snyder (Rep.)	105
E. C. Baumann (Dem.)	29
For Supervisor	206
H. L. Skavlem (Rep.)	11
William Hughes (Dem.)	11
For School Commissioner	197
Francis C. Grant (Rep.)	10
John Nichols (Dem.)	10
For Constable	206
J. J. Comstock (Rep.)	514
THIRD WARD
Total vote	303
For Alderman	116
William W. Watt (Rep.)	116
L. J. Cronin (Rep.)	4
L. J. Cronin (Dem.)	4
A. W. Allison (Rep.)	55
For Supervisor	370
J. L. Bear (Rep.)	278
For Constable	126
Alvah Maxfield (Rep.)	126
Roy C. Inman (Rep.)	126
FOURTH WARD
Total vote	572
For Alderman	496
H. G. Carter (Rep.)	42
W. H. H. Macloon (Rep.)	42
J. J. Sheridan (Dem.)	350
C. K. Millmore (Dem.)	46
For Supervisor	237
A. L. Hemmens (Rep.)	139
Frank M. Britt (Dem.)	139
For School Commissioner	237
Wm. G. Palmer (Rep.)	237
Wm. F. Kuhlow (Dem.)	237
For Constable	2
Emil Pautz (Rep.)	2
Emil Pautz (Dem.)	2
FIFTH WARD
Total vote	331
For Alderman	129
Paul Rudolph (Dem.)	129
W. A. Murray (Dem.)	129
George Rood (Dem.)	36
For Supervisor	3
Edward Rutherford (Dem.)	3
For Constable	129
William E. Dulin (Dem.)	102
Geo. L. Bogardus (Dem.)	102
Fred O'Donnell (Rep.)	1

STREAM OF WATER USED ON FIRE AT JANSVILLE MACHINE COMPANY PLANT

Overheated Stack Caused Blaze in Roof at Noon Today—Still Alarm.

At eleven-forty-five o'clock this morning a still alarm called a portion of the fire department to the plant of the Janesville Machine company where an overheated stack had ignited the roof of the blacksmith shop. It was necessary to use a stream of water to extinguish the blaze and the damage done is estimated at about twenty-five dollars.

COMPLETES TEST OF THE CRANE HERD

State Veterinarian Roberts Finds Fifteen Out of a Herd of Thirty-Three Affected.

State Veterinarian Roberts today completed the test of the Crane herd south of the city and found that fifteen out of a herd of thirty-three cattle responded to the tuberculin test. These cattle will be appraised this afternoon by a commission appointed by a justice of the peace and the owner will receive two-thirds of the appraised value from the state. The fifteen head will then be shipped immediately to Milwaukee, by the Elve Stock Sanitary Board, where they will be officially inspected by a government inspector and if they pass his inspection they will be slaughtered and the meat sold to a packing house. Up to a certain point there is no danger from meat affected in this manner and the inspection by the government is most rigid. The proceeds from this sale will go to the state to reimburse them for the cost of paying for the cattle condemned. Many interested persons have visited the office of Dr. Roberts to see for themselves the lung of the diseased cow killed the first of the week, so they may judge for themselves what conditions exist when cattle are affected with tuberculosis.

NEWS OF A PERSONAL NATURE

Mrs. H. Tracey went to Chicago this morning.

W. H. Parish of 50 Yuba street has received word that his sister, Mrs. W. M. Davey of Kaukauna, is dangerously ill with pneumonia and her sister, Mrs. George Grundy, has gone to Kaukauna to be with her.

J. C. Perkins returned yesterday from a few days' visit with his family at Lake Mills.

AMERICAN BOWLING CONGRESS WILL GO TO ST. LOUIS NEXT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Louisville, Ky., March 21.—The American Bowling Congress today decided to hold its next annual convention at St. Louis.

THE CITY CONTEST

	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	Total	Plu.
For City Treasurer—	Wd.	Wd.	Wd.	Wd.	Wd.
J. A. Fathers (Rep.)	287	216	395	136	29	1,063
J. A. Fathers (Dem.)	1	6	3	25	18	53
For City Attorney—	Wd.	Wd.	Wd.	Wd.	Wd.
H. L. Maxfield (Rep.)	170	105	150	52	14	491	13
Wm. Ruger, Jr. (Rep.)	76	101	239	53	9	478
S. D. Tallman (Rep.)	77	46	73	42	5	243
W. H. Dougherty (Dem.)	3	18	6	23	22	72
School Com. at Large—	Wd.	Wd.	Wd.	Wd.	Wd.
A. M. Fisher (Rep.)	259	187	349	130	20	945
A. M. Fisher (Dem.)	1	3	7	7	11	31
Justice of Peace—	Wd.	Wd.	Wd.	Wd.	Wd.
Jesse Earle (Rep.)	263	211	383	131	25	1,013
Jesse Earle (Dem.)	1	1	3	16	5	26
Total Vote—Cast	344	320	514	672	331	2,081

FIRST "EXTEMPORE" CONTESTS ARE HELD

Intersection Tryouts at the High School Today—Medal Contest Soon.

At the high school this afternoon are being held the intersection extempore speaking contests, the first in the series that lead to the medal competition. The representatives of four departments in the sophomore class are trying for place on the interclass event, and speakers from two classes of Juniors are contesting for similar honors. The senior contest is to be held within the next few days. There will be no Freshman extempore speakers this year, as they were given different topics from the other students and are not prepared to meet the upper classroom. The interclass tryout will occur either at the end of this week or during next. The aspirants for oratorical honors will receive places for the medal events which they submit to the interclass judges and those seeking declaratory praise will compete next week. In the oratorical and declaratory lines, the contestants will be volunteers as no work in either line is compulsory. The medal contest date is not definitely settled upon, but it will be during the week of April 8. The League declaratory contest is to be held on the Friday evening of the same week at Evansville. The Juniors in the extempore tryout today are: William Spohn, Archie Withersell, Gertrude Bradley, Edward Boylen, Belle Sherer, Tassie Nott, Leonel Burgess, George Butts, Pliny Morse and Mabel Isaac. The Sophomore competitors are Roy Crissey, Leo Atwood, Ralph Klenke, Harry Elitch, Laila Soverhill, Arthur Clark, Mayme Spohn, Wilma Jones, James Roberty, Hazel Howe, Robert Clithero, Cora Fisher, Helen French, Rhonda Sherman, Roger Cunningham and Stewart Richards.

A LAST CHANCE TO ENTER TOURNAMENT

Janesville Meets Waukesha in Basketball Game. Here This Friday Evening.

On the outcome of the basketball game to be played here Friday night between the high school teams of Waukesha and Janesville depends Janesville's chance to claim a right to try for the state championship in a tournament to be held in Appleton under the auspices of Lawrence University. If the locals win they will stand on equal footing with their opponents, having lost in Waukesha last week, but if they are defeated their work for this year will be done. The contest is to take place in the high school gymnasium at eight Friday evening. A preliminary game will be arranged.

LATE LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF

Write Bennett, Litts & Co. today if you wish to buy or sell real estate. One year's free advertising to dispose of your farm, if necessary.

List your farm for sale with Bennett, Litts & Co., the new soil movers, over Badger Drug Co., Janesville.

Your farm will be advertised free of charge for one year if necessary by Bennett, Litts & Co., the quick disposers of real estate, corner River and Milwaukee streets.

Baumann Bros. are agents for Pure Gold Flour instead of Gold Medal, as announced in yesterday's paper.

The ladies of the Baptist church and congregation will meet Friday 10 a. m. in the church parlors to sew for the Indian orphanage; picnic lunch at 12 o'clock.

CURRENT NEWS

Mooney Case Today. In municipal court this afternoon a jury is being drawn for the trial of the Mooney case. The defendant is to be prosecuted by the State on a serious statutory charge.

Wife Under Twenty-One. Nettie P. Heilwagen, of Beloit, who was granted a divorce from Fred P. Heilwagen on the grounds of desertion last Saturday, and Bessie McIntyre of the same city, who was granted a divorce from William McIntyre on the same date for non-support, are both under twenty-one years of age and had to be represented by guardians in the persons of their attorneys.

Subscribe for the Gazette.

Card of Thanks.
To all our friends and neighbors who assisted us in our sorrow and for the beautiful floral offerings we return our most heartfelt thanks.

ALEXANDER BABCOCK,
JESSE A. BABCOCK,
ELLA DUFFEY.

Read the want ads.

PURE FOOD REQUIREMENTS

PURE HIGH GRADE CHEESE

Limburger, 16c lb.
Mild New Am. Cheese, 16c lb.
Swiss Cheese, new lot just received, at 22c lb.
Norwegian Prim-Ost, 30c brick.

PEANUT BUTTER, 10c Jar.
Another lot of Sauer Kraut at 8c Qt.

Sole Agents for Pure Gold Flour: Lenox Oil.

BAUMANN BROS.
14 North Main St.

CONGRESSMAN DIES OF HEART FAILURE

George R. Patterson of Pennsylvania Succumbs Suddenly in Washington Today

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, March 21.—Representative George Patterson of the Twelfth Pennsylvania district died suddenly of heart failure here today. The house adjourned immediately after it was called to order today out of respect for the late George R. Patterson of Pennsylvania, who died this morning. The statehood bill, which was to be considered today, will be taken up tomorrow.

"LADIES SMOKING" ON ENGLISH TRAINS

First Car of Its Kind Left London Today for Liverpool—Shows Spread of Habit.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, March 21.—The first smoking-car ever reserved for women in Great Britain left the London terminus today for Liverpool. The windows bore the label reading "Ladies smoking." The innovation attests to the spread of smoking among the English women during recent years.

UNION LABOR MAKES VISIT TO CANNON

Large Number Of The American Federation Of Labor Visit Washington.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, March 21.—President Gompers and the executive council of the American Federation of Labor with a hundred representatives of the international trades unions were received by Speaker Cannon today. They presented a document concerning the pending labor legislation which later was presented to Senator Frye and President Roosevelt.

Dinner Perils.

Do not sit at dinner next to the person with a hobby. It may be gardening, it may be the collecting of "Moonlight" soap wrappers, it may be—and then heaven help you!—golf. On whatever line his conversation may start, you will find that all roads lead to the hobby.—Hon. Mary Cavendish in The Lady.

This store is famous for GOOD COFFEES, TEAS, BUTTER,
and all kinds of home-baked goods. If you are hard to suit, come to us.

Fredendall's Grocery,
South Main St.

THURSDAY SPECIAL
20 lbs. Best Granulated
Sugar
1 sk. Golden Palace Flour
$2.00

E. R. WINSLOW
20 North Main St.

JAP-A-LAC
gives new life and lustre to old tables, chairs, furniture and picture frames. It is the ideal finish for floors, interior woodwork, bath rooms, sash and sills.
Thirteen colors—100 different uses—75 cents a quart can.

All the best and most widely advertised goods are always to be found at this store and at prices to please every purse.

J. P. BAKER
DRUGGIST
73 Milwaukee Street.
Janesville, Wis.

NO-INTERSCHOLASTIC DEBATE THIS YEAR

Library Being Closed at Christmas Time Prevented Preparation for Such Contest.

This year the boys' literary society of the high school will have no debate with any other high school. It has been the custom to meet some school in the state on the forensic platform whenever arrangements could be made but this year it is impossible for the Bower City boys to prepare for such a contest. The Christmas vacation has usually been utilized in research and study, but this year the library, the source of the greater amount of information, was closed during that season and since then there has not been sufficient time. To replace this event a debate between teams representing the Rusk Lyceum and the Forum will take place in the near future.

OBITUARY

Mrs. A. E. Davenport
Evansville, March 20.—Mrs. A. E. Davenport died at the home of a son in Chicago Monday afternoon and the remains will arrive in this city on the 12:15 train Wednesday noon. The funeral party will go from the depot to Maple Hill cemetery, where the interment will take place. Mrs. Davenport resided in this city and vicinity for many years and leave a host of friends who extend sympathy to the bereaved family.

Fred Ohlweiler
The mortal remains of the late Fred Ohlweiler were tenderly laid at rest in the cemetery at Port Atkinson today. Funeral services were held from the home in this city this morning at eleven. Rev. Vaughan officiating, and body was taken to Port Atkinson at 12:45 o'clock over the North-Western Road.

IMPROVES BUT SLOWLY FROM HER INJURY IN THE WRECK

Miss Winifred Fifield Is Still Confined to Her Couch—Little Change.

Miss Winifred Fifield, who was injured in a wreck of a street car in Milwaukee some three weeks ago, has been brought back from Milwaukee and although slightly improved is still confined to her couch. The injury appears to be located in her back and her recovery will be very slow.

Golden Blend Coffee is making new friends every day...

It has the rich flavor and strength that a good Coffee should have and the people like it.

You can't go wrong in giving it a trial—then you'll be a regular customer.

25 cents per pound.

Premium Checks with every pound.

JANESVILLE SPICE CO.

Milwaukee Street Bridge.
Both Phones

Mining Stock in the "United"
20c per share

Parties wishing to purchase at this price must place their orders at once.

For the benefit of those wanting stock on time, will sell at 25 per cent. down, balance in equal payments in one, two and three months.

The Consolidated Mining Co., in same locality, started at 10c per share and in 13 months' time was sold at 100c per share. Their new mill is now working full time; they are selling ore and will soon pay dividends.

The United Co. are progressing more rapidly and will equal this record in 13 months, if not before.

Their great strike Feb. 17th and March 12th will surely advance price of stock soon. Place your order before the advance.

H. S. BICKNELL
AGENT.

FAIR STORE.

Special Sale this week of Ladies' Jackson Corset Waist and Chicago Corset Waist @ 45c.

Ladies' and Misses' Mackintoshes, with circular capes, in brown, blue and black, were $3.50 & $4; our price to close out entire lot, $1.50 each.

Ladies' Knit Golf Jackets, assorted colors, @ $1.75.

Men's Brown Duck Coats, heavy flannel lining, also slicker lining, regular $1.50 coat, @ $1.

Men's Cottonade Work Pants, good weight, a nice assortment of patterns, @ $1.25 a pair.

Men's Light-Colored Negligee Shirts with cuffs and two separate collars, neat patterns, @ 50c each.

We give prompt attention to your orders and will treat you right.

Our ECONOMY COAL is a better investment than most of the mining stock offered

BRIEF NEWS FROM OLD ROCK

UTTER'S CORNERS.

Utter's Corners, March 19.—The majority of the young people from here went to Whitewater Friday night and spent the major portion of the night at the "pleasant" home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Roe. The object in view was to give Miss Ida Roe a surprise party and all report a very pleasant time.

C. L. Hackett has purchased a fine flock of sheep and has turned his attention to the sheep industry.

R. R. Sherman's horses are all afflicted with a disease resembling grippie. Dr. Fay of Whitewater has them under treatment.

Ambrose Warner and son went to Chicago last week with their fat steers. They had 58 head which averaged 1269 pounds per head and sold at $5.25 per hundred. It required three cars to ship the bunch.

C. August and H. Hart of Millard were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bloxham.

Miss Nettie Farnsworth spent the first of last week at the home of Mrs. D. Collins at Lima. Center and the remainder of the week with her sister, Mrs. Mabel Dixon.

Charlie Marquart who is working at the county farm near Janesville made a home visit the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bloxham and daughter Mrs. R. R. Sherman went to Elkhorn Sunday to attend the funeral of Mr. Hurdin, an old friend of theirs both in their native home, England, and in this country.

It was announced from the pulpit here Sunday that the Lima Literary society would give a light social at Holbrook's hall Tuesday night, March 20. Admission three cents per foot and one cent per inch. A program will be given and lunch will be served.

Mrs. Keenan of East Troy visited her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Welch and family Wednesday and Thursday.

John Shields and family spent Sunday at the home of his brother Albert of this place.

JOHNSTOWN.

Johnstown, March 19.—A farewell and surprise party was given David and Coribel Cummings last Tuesday evening by their school mates, nine in number, and the little people had a jolly time.

Dogs got into W. Wilbur's flock of sheep Monday night killing and swooping fifteen of them.

Dr. Rice of Delavan was called to see Grandma Peterson last week. She has been sick several weeks.

Miss Alice Haight is visiting her cousin, Mrs. E. S. Johnson of Janesville.

Charles Pierce's children are sick with the measles.

Mrs. C. Greig returned from Danman Thursday. She was called there to see her mother, Mrs. David Wilkins, who is very sick.

Mr. Greig went to Palmyra Monday with an order of wool paper.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Hall entertained J. W. Jones and wife last Thursday.

Another new phone in town in the last few days at the home of Mrs. Eva Hall.

At the Blue Rock shoot held at P. J. McFarlane's Saturday, W. Wilbur won the highest score breaking forty-one out of fifty.

Mrs. James Cummings spent Sunday with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Cavanaugh celebrated March seventeenth at their home in Richmond, by giving a euchre party to a company of their Johnstown friends, which all joined in helping celebrate St. Patrick's day. The home and tables were neatly decorated with flags and bunting. At the conclusion of the games delicious refreshments were served. Prizes were awarded to J. W. Jones, L. Nickerson, Mrs. J. W. Jones and E. A. Carter easily won the booby prize.

Saturday evening, March 17, a pleasant surprise was tendered Mrs. Eva Hall and children. The party assembled early with well filled baskets and enjoyed a pleasant evening. After a season of social chat tables were arranged for playing cards.

Gus Schmaling is drawing lumber to remodel a part of his tobacco shed into a cow barn.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Lerch spent Sunday in Delavan with parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Utter.

Elorence Wilbur has returned home after an absence of two weeks visiting her grandparents in Milton.

Mrs. Victor Borklund is ill with an attack of tonsillitis.

Hear the Barlow-Macy Concert Co. at the Rock Prairie U. P. church, next Friday evening.

FAIRFIELD.

Fairfield, March 19.—A concert will be given at the M. E. church Thursday evening, March 22, under the auspices of the Ladies' Industrial society. The program will consist of musical selections and readings. The patronage of the public is solicited. Come and enjoy a pleasant evening.

W. Barrage of Marshalltown, Iowa, is visiting at J. Putnam's.

Mr. Richard and family move Saturday to their new home here, which they purchased of J. Catter.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Zimmerman died Monday afternoon. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of their friends.

Mrs. W. More and Mrs. M. Wilkins were callers in Richmond Saturday.

Mr. W. Cheney is on the sick list. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Eldwell of Freeport, Ill., is spending some time at W. Randall's.

W. More had the misfortune to lose his driving horse, Silver.

School closes this week Friday for two weeks vacation.

Willard Utley is helping care for Lemuel Hollister.

The band concert was quiet well attended last Friday night. Nine dollars was taken in.

The Bible study will meet with Mrs. Milton Wilken Saturday.

Mr. Straug and Willard Pratt of Clinton moved a building for A. W. Chamberlin the past week which he purchased of Chas. Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoelzel of Allen Grove spent Sunday at W. Randall's.

Mrs. Jasper Sorl is in Janesville helping care for her daughter, Mrs. Fletcher, and new granddaughter.

Harry Chamberlin transacted business in Clinton Monday.

LIMA.

Lima, March 19.—School closed at District No. 13 for a two weeks vacation.

Mrs. Urban of Ft. Atkinson spent last week with her son John Urban.

Arthur McGill spent part of last week with George Brady.

Ralph Ray and Florence Collins spent Sunday at Lima with their uncle, Bert Collins.

The annual meeting of the South Koshkonong creamery was held Monday.

Miss Belle Kimble started Tuesday for Iowa to attend the wedding of her cousin, Lizzie Kimble.

Mrs. Jas. Brady and son Russell spent Sunday and Monday with her brother, James Manogue, at Johnstown.

CAINVILLE.

Cainville, March 19.—Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Andrews are moving to Magnolia Corners this week at which place they expect to make their future home. The store will hereafter be known as Acheson and Andrews.

Art. Townsends are remodeling their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Andrew spent Sunday with the latter's brother of Oregon.

Mrs. Warren Andrews was an Evansville visitor Saturday.

Lucious Andrews of Beloit visited relatives in this vicinity over Sunday. The Mite society will meet with Mrs. Frank Clark Thursday.

Mrs. Bertha Collins and children of Chicago are visiting relatives and friends here.

North Spring Valley.

North Spring Valley, March 19.—M. B. Downing of Milton was through here last week selling nursery stock.

A few from Spring Valley attended the funeral of August Ruelhof in Broadhead last Friday.

Marvin Lee has been spending several days with relatives in Evansville.

Mrs. Hagemann is visiting friends and relatives at Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. N. N. Palmer and family spent Sunday in Footville.

John Boyd filled his regular appointment here last Sunday.

Will M. recently entertained his cousin Chas. Hillbrand from Iowa for several days.

Thos. Harper, Jr. has been spending several days visiting friends in Janesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fuller spent Sunday at home.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Gibson are rejoicing over the arrival of another son.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Bowles visited their daughter in Magnolia the first of the week.

August Scholtz has been on the sick list but is recovering.

NORTH HARMONY.

Milton, March 19.—Byron Coon had the misfortune to lose a horse at Milton Thursday. The horse became frightened at a train near the lumber yard, it reared, fell backward and broke its neck.

Brice, Heald of Beloit, is visiting his uncle, H. A. Betts and family.

Frank and Genieve Carney visited relatives at Aurora, Ill., last week.

Miss Katie Cunningham who has been working in tobacco warehouses at Milton and Milton Junction has the small pox.

John Carney has been confined to the house several days being afflicted with rheumatism.

THE MEMBERS OF HARMONY.

The members of Harmony, W. C. T. U. and their husbands spent a delightful day at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gray at Milton. A beautiful dinner was served by the ladies and after a few hours spent socially an interesting meeting was held making the day one of pleasure for all who attended.

Miss Elmore Wilbur visited her friend Daisy Fisher at Center last week.

Thomas McCartney has gone to Chicago to receive medical treatment from his brother-in-law, Dr. Ernest Petherstone.

Laurence McCuen is doing Mr. McCartney's work during his absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Mansur of Rock Prairie and Jas. Petherstone and wife visited H. A. Betts and family Thursday.

MATRIMONIAL.

Winch-Rye.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Winch of Milton Junction was the scene of a pretty wedding on Thursday, March 15, when their daughter Mabel in the presence of about sixty relatives and friends was wedded to Aven Rye of Johnstown. A few moments before twelve o'clock the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mrs. T. W. North of Milton Junction made them man and wife. Congratulations were followed by an elaborate two-course luncheon at tables tastefully decorated with flowers and ribbon. The bride, the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winch, is held in the highest esteem by all large circle and will be greatly missed from the community in which she has lived. The groom is an energetic capable young man with excellent prospects for a successful future. Many beautiful and valuable gifts were bestowed upon the young couple to remind them of loving relatives and friends and to keep green the memory of the happiest day of their lives. After a brief wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Rye will make their home at Johnstown, Wis.

A CARD.

We the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50-cent bottle of Green's warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

E. B. Baker, Geo. E. King & Co., 101 N. Main Street, Smith Pharmacy, People's Drug Co., H. B. Ransom & Co., Janesville, Wis.

JANESVILLE MARKET REPORT.

Quotations on Grain and Produce for The Gazette.

Feb. 20, 1906.

Wheat—Chicago Cash, No. 1 and 2 Northern $1.18 1/2.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

Bar Corn—$1.00 $1.00 per ton.

SENATOR BAILEY HAS AMENDMENT

Just Compensation Is Provided as Bone for Court Contention.

MR. DOLLIVER IN OPPOSITION

Iowa Senator Declares Texas's Rate Review Scheme Would Lead to a Worse Morass Than Anything Mr. Aldrich Suggests.

Washington, March 21.—Senator Bailey's proposed amendment to the Hepburn-Dolliver bill, providing for court review of the question of "just compensation," but abrogating the power of courts to suspend orders of the interstate commerce commission, pending the review, was passed around among the senate leaders for inspection Tuesday afternoon.

It would have been presented at once for the information of the entire senate except for the objection of Senator Foster of Louisiana, a member of the interstate commerce committee, who suggested that by withholding it temporarily the minority might come to a harmonious understanding regarding it without, however, raising the issue of partisanship, such as might result from a caucus agreement.

The Bailey amendment is going to raise a rumpus greater in all probability than the Rayner speech last week or anything else that has transpired since the rate question was placed on the senate stage. While Bailey, who is working shrewdly to unite his party without exciting the suspicion of drawing political lines, may succeed in a large measure with his colleagues, he is not going to be successful in forming an alliance with the Republican friends of the Hepburn-Dolliver measure. Senator Dolliver, after examining the Bailey amendment, declared:

"Would Lead into Mine." "Bailey's rate review scheme will lead us into a worse morass than anything proposed by Aldrich. The friends of the bill will not listen to it for a moment."

This comment, reaching the ears of the Texas senator, aroused his fiery southern indignation, and he evinced a purpose of pitching into the Iowa roughshod when he presents his amendment. It is indicated that he will question the sincerity of the senator whose name is attached to the measure, in which event more fireworks will be exploded on the floor of the senate.

The Bailey amendment, which until something else is brought forward, will center the attention given to rate regulation in general, has been guarded with great pains as far as its exact phraseology is concerned, its author having allowed only a single transcript of it to exist through fear of premature publication.

It provides that the interstate commerce commission shall fix a specific "maximum" rate, and that upon application of a carrier to any circuit court in this section of the country affected by the rate, alleging that the rate established by the commission is not just compensation, the court shall review the case and find whether just compensation is afforded. The other feature is that prohibiting the court from suspending the commission's rate pending final determination of the question of just compensation.

Curtails Commission's Power. Senator Dolliver declares the effect of this amendment would be to prevent the interstate commerce commission from exercising any of the essential powers given to it by the legislation proposed by the framers of the original bill. The powers of the commission, he asserts, would be so limited under the scheme of court review as to "just compensation" that discriminations could not be dealt with at all.

Most complaints—practically all in fact—according to Mr. Dolliver—arise from discriminations, and when the commission fixes a rate which is "just, fair and reasonable," as provided in the pending measure, it may mean something entirely different than "just compensation." The just compensation to which a carrier is entitled as a return on the value of its property can be determined only from the aggregate of all its multifarious rates extending over its whole system, in the view of Senator Dolliver. A rate, he declares, might be fair and reasonable in a certain case where discrimination is alleged, and still not compensate the carrier for the actual service rendered.

The argument involved as it may seem to be, simply shows how complicated the whole question really is.

Democrats May Blunder.

Before the rate debate is many days older the charge is likely to be made openly that Bailey, with his court review provisions, is playing in with the Republican senators, who have been classed as the enemies of rate legislation. Also there are predictions that the Democrats will lose their tactical advantages, and relinquishing control of the measure which fate placed in their hands, disintegrate and allow the "conservatives" to frame the measure that eventually will pass.

Senator Spooner will give zest to the situation in a speech which he will make today. This is scheduled for the great effort of the day, providing controversy over the formal presentation of the Bailey resolution does not consume too much time, and promises to be one of the great speeches of the entire debate.

The Manitowoc city council has ordered Fire Chief Kratz, to file an itemized statement of the cost of the fire department each month.

HESPER

BY... HAMLIN GARLAND

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HAMLIN GARLAND

Louis started up. "Oh, will you? If Ann were here I would never want to go back east again—never! I could live here always."

"A foot outside disturbed Raymond, and a man's voice called, 'Is Rob Raymond here?'"

In the unfinished doorway stood a graceful young fellow in a white shirt and a neatly fitting dark suit. "Jack Munro!" exclaimed Raymond, and they shook hands. "Sit down. This is a boy friend of mine from the Springs," he said, indicating Louis.

"What can I do for you?"

"Nothing, old man. Just lined you out today. I heard that a man named Raymond had taken a lease with Kelly, but I didn't know it was you till I saw you with Barnett today. Well, this is wonderful! Where you from? What have you been doing since we graduated?" There was something in his voice that eluded Louis. Raymond gave Munro a warning glance.

"Oh, a little of everything—cattle ranching, hunting, mining. I saw you last night in Hanley's saloon."

"Why didn't you speak up?"

Raymond hesitated. "I didn't know whether you—"

"Oh, rats! I'm not one to dodge. What did getting fired amount to anyway? I was ready to leave."

Raymond repeated his warning sign. "Have you been back home?"

Munro smiled broadly. "You bet! I went back and swelled around in high feathers—told my side of the story—understand? I didn't let the institution get the drop on me. But, see here, come up to the saloon; I want to talk things over with you. The boys are bound to make me take a hand in this union."

"Can't do it now, Jack. But come down again. Louis is going back tomorrow, and I'll be alone for a day or two, and then we can talk freely."

"All right. There are a whole lot of things I want to turn over. By the Lord, this is wonderful—our meeting up here!" He was reluctant to go. "You bring up the old days. Well, so long."

When Raymond returned to his seat his face was grave and his eyes deeply reflective.

Louis was much interested in the stranger. "Who was that, Rob?"

"A chap I used to know."

Next morning after breakfast Raymond hurried Louis off down the canyon to the stage and in his letter to Ann repeated his pledge to look carefully after the boy's health and to keep him out of mischief.

"Louis arrived at the Springs fairly hysterical with joy over his wonderful day's ride and set about to describe Skytown."

His absence had been a revelation of his value to Ann. She had not realized up to that moment how deeply his care was woven into her daily life. It was jealousy of Raymond's power—an acid juice—which had turned her pity for him, while wounded and helpless, into resentment, and now that he was well and triumphantly drawing the boy to his side, her heart was bitter with hatred, but she gave her consent to Louis' return because she dared not do otherwise, and in a letter to Raymond she said:

"I resign Louis into your hands, because his happiness is more than my own and because he no longer regards my wishes. I have heard much of the gambling and drinking of mining camps. I beg of you to guard him. He is so fine and sweet now, and delectable, it is so easy."

Upon reading this letter the camp suddenly became a dark and dangerous place to the young miner. He found it harder to make excuse for profanity and foul jests of the miners, and he went less and less among them, and spent more of his time with the lad watching him draw or listening to him while he read.

Their cabin became the center of the finer spirits of the camp. Doan and one or two of his friends often came in, and they would smoke a pipe and play a friendly game of cards. "A visit to the bungalow always pays," said one young fellow whose weakness was drink. "They send a fellow away feeling respectable."

Mrs. Kelly supervised the house-keeping as well as she could, and the effect on the valley of Mackay's recital of his maltreatment was most wonderful. The principal mine owners of the Springs met to discuss their campaign. The valley called for the blood of those who had dented the sacred person of their representative, and the sheriff was ordered to arrest and bring down the insolent "red necks" who had humbled the proud and confident Red Star superintendent.

This spirit of lawlessness must be checked or it will run into riot," said Barnett, who developed unexpectedly into a leader of the mine owners by virtue of his large interests in the Red Star.

The sheriff valiantly responded to the call, and with a half dozen deputies, marched up into the glittering mist of the high peaks and came down again empty handed and sullen.

A meeting of the officers of the Red Star and allied companies was called; Barnett presiding. Most resolute resolutions were passed. Mackay was arrested. Louis rode down the trail to spend Sunday with Ann, but Raymond steadily refused to join him, though he suffered keenly of loneliness.

"I am a miner now," he said. "I've taken myself out of that life. And Louis did not know when he carried these words to his sister that they conveyed a deeper meaning. Ann was aware that Raymond was holding aloof from her, and while she suspected him for his consideration, she was, after all, a woman and resented his self mastery a little."

She was beginning to be bored to hopelessness by the narrow life at the Springs, under conditions which seemed to the outsider ideally beautiful. But Louis' came down each time browner, more manly in bearing, almost comical in his assumption of Kelly's walk and Raymond's impassive face. He always had exciting tales to tell and seemed so entirely happy and so well that Ann had not the heart to ask him to return east with her. She even found herself listening with interest to his account of the doings of his heroes, for he had placed Matthew Kelly on the same pedestal with Robert.

Mrs. Barnett responded graciously to his invitation to come up and see the peak, but explained that the high altitude was destructive to her, and Ann shrunk from meeting Raymond again, though she expressed to him in a letter a tepid sort of gratitude for his care of her brother.

CHAPTER XII.

ONE day Barnett telephoned to his wife that he would not take lunch at home. There was nothing unusual in this; Barnett's keen ear detected restrained excitement in his calm drawl.

"What's the matter?" she asked quickly.

"Nothing, my dear; nothing," he glibly responded.

"Don't Barnett, I know better. Tell me this instant!"

"He was in for it. 'Well, Mr. Mackay, your superintendent was tired and ridden on a rail by the miners this morning.'"

"Gracious heavens!"

"And I'm getting off up the stage road to meet him."

"What did they do to him?"

"Oh, it's the same old business. The men didn't like some regulation of his and struck, and—but it's a long story; I won't go into it now. I'll get back in time for dinner, probably."

In an hour Mackay's row was humming with news of the outrage. Reports, confused, conflicting, flew along the wires east and west, and the afternoon papers were filled with dramatic details of the opening of a big strike in Skytown and the story of how the union leaders had mishandled Mackay, the superintendent of the Red Star Mining corporation.

All this would have interested Ann very little had not her brother been in the midst of the disorder. She immediately wired him to come down and get a reply from Raymond saying, "Louis is on the way—no danger," and the boy himself came riding into the yard at dusk.

Raymond's letter to Barnett took serious view of the situation:

"I don't think Mackay the proper man to attempt to organize the working hours of this camp. Don't try to put him back, and don't make too much of this little affair. The whole camp is uneasy at this time. The union is getting very strong and likely to make it hot for independents like Kelly and myself."

"What is all about?" asked Jeanette.

Don looked bored. "Oh, really now, don't ask me to go into the cause of a strike. A woman never understands such a situation. However, here is what Rob says:

Mackay posted his notices Saturday night, putting the new time hour schedule into effect Monday morning. Sunday the camp boiled. The union put forth its demand, and of course at the morning hour a big crowd gathered to see Mackay face his men. He came riding up (the jack ass) in a tan-colored English riding breeches and a little two-billed gray cap, and he looked the kind of horse back down the hill. He was red-headed, naturally, and being a double distilled idiot, hired a couple of desperadoes from Bozoe as guards and came back. This time the boys jerked him and his men from their horses and hustled them down the canyon at the foot too. I did what I could to prevent this, but the men who had the matter in charge had been drinking, and the crowd was with them. My men are not in the union, but I hear ominous threats. I advise you not to attempt to put the new schedule into operation at the present time."

The effect on the valley of Mackay's recital of his maltreatment was most wonderful. The principal mine owners of the Springs met to discuss their campaign. The valley called for the blood of those who had dented the sacred person of their representative, and the sheriff was ordered to arrest and bring down the insolent "red necks" who had humbled the proud and confident Red Star superintendent.

This spirit of lawlessness must be checked or it will run into riot," said Barnett, who developed unexpectedly into a leader of the mine owners by virtue of his large interests in the Red Star.

The sheriff valiantly responded to the call, and with a half dozen deputies, marched up into the glittering mist of the high peaks and came down again empty handed and sullen.

A meeting of the officers of the Red Star and allied companies was called; Barnett presiding. Most resolute resolutions were passed. Mackay was arrested. Louis rode down the trail to spend Sunday with Ann, but Raymond steadily refused to join him, though he suffered keenly of loneliness.

"I am a miner now," he said. "I've taken myself out of that life. And Louis did not know when he carried these words to his sister that they conveyed a deeper meaning. Ann was aware that Raymond was holding aloof from her, and while she suspected him for his consideration, she was, after all, a woman and resented his self mastery a little."

She was beginning to be bored to hopelessness by the narrow life at the Springs, under conditions which seemed to the outsider ideally beautiful. But Louis' came down each time browner, more manly in bearing, almost comical in his assumption of Kelly's walk and Raymond's impassive face. He always had exciting tales to tell and seemed so entirely happy and so well that Ann had not the heart to ask him to return east with her. She even found herself listening with interest to his account of the doings of his heroes, for he had placed Matthew Kelly on the same pedestal with Robert.

Mrs. Barnett responded graciously to his invitation to come up and see the peak, but explained that the high altitude was destructive to her, and Ann shrunk from meeting Raymond again, though she expressed to him in a letter a tepid sort of gratitude for his care of her brother.

CHAPTER XII.

ONE day Barnett telephoned to his wife that he would not take lunch at home. There was nothing unusual in this; Barnett's keen ear detected restrained excitement in his calm drawl.

"What's the matter?" she asked quickly.

"Nothing, my dear; nothing," he glibly responded.

"Don't Barnett, I know better. Tell me this instant!"

"He was in for it. 'Well, Mr. Mackay, your superintendent was tired and ridden on a rail by the miners this morning.'"

"Gracious heavens!"

"And I'm getting off up the stage road to meet him."

"What did they do to him?"

"Oh, it's the same old business. The men didn't like some regulation of his and struck, and—but it's a long story; I won't go into it now. I'll get back in time for dinner, probably."

In an hour Mackay's row was humming with news of the outrage. Reports, confused, conflicting, flew along the wires east and west, and the afternoon papers were filled with dramatic details of the opening of a big strike in Skytown and the story of how the union leaders had mishandled Mackay, the superintendent of the Red Star Mining corporation.

All this would have interested Ann very little had not her brother been in the midst of the disorder. She immediately wired him to come down and get a reply from Raymond saying, "Louis is on the way—no danger," and the boy himself came riding into the yard at dusk.

Raymond's letter to Barnett took serious view of the situation:

"I don't think Mackay the proper man to attempt to organize the working hours of this camp. Don't try to put him back, and don't make too much of this little affair. The whole camp is uneasy at this time. The union is getting very strong and likely to make it hot for independents like Kelly and myself."

"What is all about?" asked Jeanette.

Don looked bored. "Oh, really now, don't ask me to go into the cause of a strike. A woman never understands such a situation. However, here is what Rob says:

Mackay posted his notices Saturday night, putting the new time hour schedule into effect Monday morning. Sunday the camp boiled. The union put forth its demand, and of course at the morning hour a big crowd gathered to see Mackay face his men. He came riding up (the jack ass) in a tan-colored English riding breeches and a little two-billed gray cap, and he looked the kind of horse back down the hill. He was red-headed, naturally, and being a double distilled idiot, hired a couple of desperadoes from Bozoe as guards and came back. This time the boys jerked him and his men from their horses and hustled them down the canyon at the foot too. I did what I could to prevent this, but the men who had the matter in charge had been drinking, and the crowd was with them. My men are not in the union, but I hear ominous threats. I advise you not to attempt to put the new schedule into operation at the present time."

The effect on the valley of Mackay's recital of his maltreatment was most wonderful. The principal mine owners of the Springs met to discuss their campaign. The valley called for the blood of those who had dented the sacred person of their representative, and the sheriff was ordered to arrest and bring down the insolent "red necks" who had humbled the proud and confident Red Star superintendent.

This spirit of lawlessness must be checked or it will run into riot," said Barnett, who developed unexpectedly into a leader of the mine owners by virtue of his large interests in the Red Star.

The sheriff valiantly responded to the call, and with a half dozen deputies, marched up into the glittering mist of the high peaks and came down again empty handed and sullen.

A meeting of the officers of the Red Star and allied companies was called; Barnett presiding. Most resolute resolutions were passed. Mackay was arrested. Louis rode down the trail to spend Sunday with Ann, but Raymond steadily refused to join him, though he suffered keenly of loneliness.

"I am a miner now," he said. "I've taken myself out of that life. And Louis did not know when he carried these words to his sister that they conveyed a deeper meaning. Ann was aware that Raymond was holding aloof from her, and while she suspected him for his consideration, she was, after all, a woman and resented his self mastery a little."

She was beginning to be bored to hopelessness by the narrow life at the Springs, under conditions which seemed to the outsider ideally beautiful. But Louis' came down each time browner, more manly in bearing, almost comical in his assumption of Kelly's walk and Raymond's impassive face. He always had exciting tales to tell and seemed so entirely happy and so well that Ann had not the heart to ask him to return east with her. She even found herself listening with interest to his account of the doings of his heroes, for he had placed Matthew Kelly on the same pedestal with Robert.

Mrs. Barnett responded graciously to his invitation to come up and see the peak, but explained that the high altitude was destructive to her, and Ann shrunk from meeting Raymond again, though she expressed to him in a letter a tepid sort of gratitude for his care of her brother.

CHAPTER XII.

ONE day Barnett telephoned to his wife that he would not take lunch at home. There was nothing unusual in this; Barnett's keen ear detected restrained excitement in his calm drawl.

"What's the matter?" she asked quickly.

"Nothing, my dear; nothing," he glibly responded.

"Don't Barnett, I know better. Tell me this instant!"

"He was in for it. 'Well, Mr. Mackay, your superintendent was tired and ridden on a rail by the miners this morning.'"

"Gracious heavens!"

"And I'm getting off up the stage road to meet him."

"What did they do to him?"

"Oh, it's the same old business. The men didn't like some regulation of his and struck, and—but it's a long story; I won't go into it now. I'll get back in time for dinner, probably."

In an hour Mackay's row was humming with news of the outrage. Reports, confused, conflicting, flew along the wires east and west, and the afternoon papers were filled with dramatic details of the opening of a big strike in Skytown and the story of how the union leaders had mishandled Mackay, the superintendent of the Red Star Mining corporation.

All this would have interested Ann very little had not her brother been in the midst of the disorder. She immediately wired him to come down and get a reply from Raymond saying, "Louis is on the way—no danger," and the boy himself came riding into the yard at dusk.

Raymond's letter to Barnett took serious view of the situation:

"I don't think Mackay the proper man to attempt to organize the working hours of this camp. Don't try to put him back, and don't make too much of this little affair. The whole camp is uneasy at this time. The union is getting very strong and likely to make it hot for independents like Kelly and myself."

"What is all about?" asked Jeanette.

Don looked bored. "Oh, really now, don't ask me to go into the cause of a strike. A woman never understands such a situation. However, here is what Rob says:

Mackay posted his notices Saturday night, putting the new time hour schedule into effect Monday morning. Sunday the camp boiled. The union put forth its demand, and of course at the morning hour a big crowd gathered to see Mackay face his men. He came riding up (the jack ass) in a tan-colored English riding breeches and a little two-billed gray cap, and he looked the kind of horse back down the hill. He was red-headed, naturally, and being a double distilled idiot, hired a couple of desperadoes from Bozoe as guards and came back. This time the boys jerked him and his men from their horses and hustled them down the canyon at the foot too. I did what I could to prevent this, but the men who had the matter in charge had been drinking, and the crowd was with them. My men are not in the union, but I hear ominous threats. I advise you not to attempt to put the new schedule into operation at the present time."

The effect on the valley of Mackay's recital of his maltreatment was most wonderful. The principal mine owners of the Springs met to discuss their campaign. The valley called for the blood of those who had dented the sacred person of their representative, and the sheriff was ordered to arrest and bring down the insolent "red necks" who had humbled the proud and confident Red Star superintendent.

This spirit of lawlessness must be checked or it will run into riot," said Barnett, who developed unexpectedly into a leader of the mine owners by virtue of his large interests in the Red Star.

The sheriff valiantly responded to the call, and with a half dozen deputies, marched up into the glittering mist of the high peaks and came down again empty handed and sullen.

A meeting of the officers of the Red Star and allied companies was called; Barnett presiding. Most resolute resolutions were passed. Mackay was arrested. Louis rode down the trail to spend Sunday with Ann, but Raymond steadily refused to join him, though he suffered keenly of loneliness.

"I am a miner now," he said. "I've taken myself out of that life. And Louis did not know when he carried these words to his sister that they conveyed a deeper meaning. Ann was aware that Raymond was holding aloof from her, and while she suspected him for his consideration, she was, after all, a woman and resented his self mastery a little."

She was beginning to be bored to hopelessness by the narrow life at the Springs, under conditions which seemed to the outsider ideally beautiful. But Louis' came down each time browner, more manly in bearing, almost comical in his assumption of Kelly's walk and Raymond's impassive face. He always had exciting tales to tell and seemed so entirely happy and so well that Ann had not the heart to ask him to return east with her. She even found herself listening with interest to his account of the doings of his heroes, for he had placed Matthew Kelly on the same pedestal with Robert.

Mrs. Barnett responded graciously to his invitation to come up and see the peak, but explained that the high altitude was destructive to her, and Ann shrunk from meeting Raymond again, though she expressed to him in a letter a tepid sort of gratitude for his care of her brother.

CHAPTER XII.

ONE day Barnett telephoned to his wife that he would not take lunch at home. There was nothing unusual in this; Barnett's keen ear detected restrained excitement in his calm drawl.

"What's the matter?" she asked quickly.

"Nothing, my dear; nothing," he glibly responded.

"Don't Barnett, I know better. Tell me this instant!"

"He was in for it. 'Well, Mr. Mackay, your superintendent was tired and ridden on a rail by the miners this morning.'"

"Gracious heavens!"

"And I'm getting off up the stage road to meet him."

"What did they do to him?"

"Oh, it's the same old business. The men didn't like some regulation of his and struck, and—but it's a long story; I won't go into it now. I'll get back in time for dinner, probably."

In an hour Mackay's row was humming with news of the outrage. Reports, confused, conflicting, flew along the wires east and west, and the afternoon papers were filled with dramatic details of the opening of a big strike in Skytown and the story of how the union leaders had mishandled Mackay, the superintendent of the Red Star Mining corporation.

All this would have interested Ann very little had not her brother been in the midst of the disorder. She immediately wired him to come down and get a reply from Raymond saying, "Louis is on the way—no danger," and the boy himself came riding into the yard at dusk.

Raymond's letter to Barnett took serious view of the situation:

"I don't think Mackay the proper man to attempt to organize the working hours of this camp. Don't try to put him back, and don't make too much of this little affair. The whole camp is uneasy at this time. The union is getting very strong and likely to make it hot for independents like Kelly and myself."

"What is all about?" asked Jeanette.

Don looked bored. "Oh, really now, don't ask me to go into the cause of a strike. A woman never understands such a situation. However, here is what Rob says:

Mackay posted his notices Saturday night, putting the new time hour schedule into effect Monday morning. Sunday the camp boiled. The union put forth its demand, and of course at the morning hour a big crowd gathered to see Mackay face his men. He came riding up (the jack ass) in a tan-colored English riding breeches and a little two-billed gray cap, and he looked the kind of horse back down the hill. He was red-headed, naturally, and being a double distilled idiot, hired a couple of desperadoes from Bozoe as guards and came back. This time the boys jerked him and his men from their horses and hustled them down the canyon at the foot too. I did what I could to prevent this, but the men who had the matter in charge had been drinking, and the crowd was with them. My men are not in the union, but I hear ominous threats. I advise you not to attempt to put the new schedule into operation at the present time."

The effect on the valley of Mackay's recital of his maltreatment was most wonderful. The principal mine owners of the Springs met to discuss their campaign. The valley called for the blood of those who had dented the sacred person of their representative, and the sheriff was ordered to arrest and bring down the insolent "red necks" who had humbled the proud and confident Red Star superintendent.

This spirit of lawlessness must be checked or it will run into riot," said Barnett, who developed unexpectedly into a leader of the mine owners by virtue of his large interests in the Red Star.

The sheriff valiantly responded to the call, and with a half dozen deputies, marched up into the glittering mist of the high peaks and came down again empty handed and sullen.

A meeting of the officers of the Red Star and allied companies was called; Barnett presiding. Most resolute resolutions were passed. Mackay was arrested. Louis rode down the trail to spend Sunday with Ann, but Raymond steadily refused to join him, though he suffered keenly of loneliness.

"I am a miner now," he said. "I've taken myself out of that life. And Louis did not know when he carried these words to his sister that they conveyed a deeper meaning. Ann was aware that Raymond was holding aloof from her, and while she suspected him for his consideration, she was, after all, a woman and resented his self mastery a little."

She was beginning to be bored to hopelessness by the narrow life at the Springs, under conditions which seemed to the outsider ideally beautiful. But Louis' came down each time browner, more manly in bearing, almost comical in his assumption of Kelly's walk and Raymond's impassive face. He always had exciting tales to tell and seemed so entirely happy and so well that Ann had not the heart to ask him to return east with her. She even found herself listening with interest to his account of the doings of his heroes, for he had placed Matthew Kelly on the same pedestal with Robert.

Mrs. Barnett responded graciously to his invitation to come up and see the peak, but explained that the high altitude was destructive to her, and Ann shrunk from meeting Raymond again, though she expressed to him in a letter a tepid sort of gratitude for his care of her brother.

CHAPTER XII.

ONE day Barnett telephoned to his wife that he would not take lunch at home. There was nothing unusual in this; Barnett's keen ear detected restrained excitement in his calm drawl.

"What's the matter?" she asked quickly.

"Nothing, my dear; nothing," he glibly responded.

"Don't Barnett, I know better. Tell me this instant!"

"He was in for it. 'Well, Mr. Mackay, your superintendent was tired and ridden on a rail by the miners this morning.'"

"Gracious heavens!"

"And I'm getting off up the stage road to meet him."

"What did they do to him?"

"Oh, it's the same old business. The men didn't like some regulation of his and struck, and—but it's a long story; I won't go into it now. I'll get back in time for dinner, probably."

In an hour Mackay's row was humming with news of the outrage. Reports, confused, conflicting, flew along the wires east and west, and the afternoon papers were filled with dramatic details of the opening of a big strike in Skytown and the story of how the union leaders had mishandled Mackay, the superintendent of the Red Star Mining corporation.

All this would have interested Ann very little had not her brother been in the midst of the disorder. She immediately wired him to come down and get a reply from Raymond saying, "Louis is on the way—no danger," and the boy himself came riding into the yard at dusk.

Raymond's letter to Barnett took serious view of the situation:

"I don't think Mackay the proper man to attempt to organize the working hours of this camp. Don't try to put him back, and don't make too much of this little affair. The whole camp is uneasy at this time. The union is getting very strong and likely to make it hot for independents like Kelly and myself."

"What is all about?" asked Jeanette.

Don looked bored. "Oh, really now, don't ask me to go into the cause of a strike. A woman never understands such a situation. However, here is what Rob says:

Mackay posted his notices Saturday night, putting the new time hour schedule into effect Monday morning. Sunday the camp boiled. The union put forth its demand, and of course at the morning hour a big crowd gathered to see Mackay face his men. He came riding up (the jack ass) in a tan-colored English riding breeches and a little two-billed gray cap, and he looked the kind of horse back down the hill. He was red-headed, naturally, and being a double distilled idiot, hired a couple of desperadoes from Bozoe as guards and came back. This time the boys jerked him and his men from their horses and hustled them down the canyon at the foot too. I did what I could to prevent this, but the men who had the matter in charge had been drinking, and the crowd was with them. My men are not in the union, but I hear ominous threats. I advise you not to attempt to put the new schedule into operation at the present time."

The effect on the valley of Mackay's recital of his maltreatment was most wonderful. The principal mine owners of the Springs met to discuss their campaign. The valley called for the blood of those who had dented the sacred person of their representative, and the sheriff was ordered to arrest and bring down the insolent "red necks" who had humbled the proud and confident Red Star superintendent.

This spirit of lawlessness must be checked or it will run into riot," said Barnett, who developed unexpectedly into a leader of the mine owners by virtue of his large interests in the Red Star.

The sheriff valiantly responded to the call, and with a half dozen deputies, marched up into the glittering mist of the high peaks and came down again empty handed and sullen.

A meeting of the officers of the Red Star and allied companies was called; Barnett presiding. Most resolute resolutions were passed. Mackay was arrested. Louis rode down the trail to spend Sunday with Ann, but Raymond steadily refused to join him, though he suffered keenly of loneliness.

"I am a miner now," he said. "I've taken myself out of that life. And Louis did not know when he carried these words to his sister that they conveyed a deeper meaning. Ann was aware that Raymond was holding aloof from her, and while she suspected him for his consideration, she was, after all, a woman and resented his self mastery a little."

She was beginning to be bored to hopelessness by the narrow life at the Springs, under conditions which seemed to the outsider ideally beautiful. But

BORT, BAILEY & COMPANY

JACKETS,
SUITS,
SKIRTS,
RAIN COATS.

FRIDAY, MARCH 23,
GREAT SPECIAL SALE

JACKETS,
SUITS,
SKIRTS,
RAIN COATS.

On this day we shall have with us a representative from the well known manufacturers of the "B. H. & K." Garments. He will bring with him more than six hundred of their newest and nobbiest productions, and will deliver any garment wanted. We unhesitatingly say that this display will surpass any previous effort, and will be remembered as the most complete showing of women's wearing apparel yet exhibited.

We will have to show you an immense line of

JACKETS

Smart new models in fancy English checks and stripes and light colored mixtures in long, loose, mannish styles and short, jaunty hip lengths; also the long and short effects in Box Coats. Covert Jackets in half fitting and box effects, at

$5 to $15

The Suits

include a large number of styles and a wide range of fabrics, such as the finest worsteds and fancy checks and stripes, in the new light gray effects. Many variations of the popular swell Eton styles and the nobby circular gored skirts, in all the new materials and popular colors; elbow, three-quarter and long sleeve; entire Suits trimmed and finished in the smartest manner--

$10 to $35

SKIRTS

in the late circular gored styles, of fine quality Chiffon Panama, Voile, Mohair, Broadcloth, Serge, and fancy gray mixtures. The styles are all the very smartest and most sought for, the tailoring careful and accurate; the prices

$4.00 to $10.00

"Shedrane" Box and Belt Coats-- A complete assortment in plain and fancy waterproof fabrics. A coat for all occasions, or cold weather, it's just the thing. Prices..... $6.00 to $18.00

Up-to-Date Styles in Misses' Coats in Both Long & Short Effects at $3.50 to $10

No merchant in Janesville can afford to carry the immense line that we will show. No merchant in Janesville can afford to sell at the close price these garments will be sold for. You are cordially invited to come to our Cloak Department on this day, whether you wish to purchase or not; you may get some ideas. Remember the day, Friday, March 23.

BORT, BAILEY & COMPANY

MINE WORKERS HAVE A CONFAB

(Continued from Page 1.)

country, that a great industrial conflict was imminent. So far as I know each of these forces made preparations for a great industrial strike. Fortunately, or unfortunately, as the circumstances may develop, the president of the United States intervened and advised that we make further effort to reconcile our differences. As a consequence of his intervention, for which I believe the people of the entire country are grateful, we have met to-day to consider not only our personal and collective interests, but also the interests and welfare of this, our common country.

The miners' chief went on to say he had given much thought, and consideration to the causes which led to the separation six weeks ago.

Miners' Claims Held Just.

"I have tried to review the situation," he asserted, "not so much as a miner, but rather as an official charged with certain public responsibilities, and after weeks of consideration am convinced beyond the peradventure of doubt that the claims made in this hall before the miners are founded upon facts of justice. I believe the prosperity of the country justifies the coal miners in asking that they receive at least a fair share in the profits which come from great industrial activity. I believe further that these claims have been confirmed by conditions since our last adjournment."

"It may be that because of our environment or special training we are unable to view the case impartially, but we are willing to meet with you representing the ownership of the mines for the purpose of trying earnestly and conscientiously to adjust our differences."

Old Scale Is Refused.

At the conclusion of his speech Mr. Mitchell, in order to place the concrete proposition before the joint convention, moved the adoption of the scale of wages and conditions which were rejected by the operators at the former conference in January. The scale is for an increase in wages of 12 1/2 per cent for a run-of-mine basis, for a flat differential of 7 cents a ton between pick and machine mining; the exclusion of boys under 16 years of age from the mines, and for an eight-hour day.

This failed to carry, the miners voting unanimously in favor of the motion and the operators as solidly against it.

Chairman John H. Winder, for the operators, completed the "cut and dried" program by offering a motion to renew the scale and conditions of last year. This was defeated also by a vote in which the miners and operators exactly reversed their positions.

with the exception of the Illinois men, who voted against the renewal of the old scale. The action of Illinois is looked upon as an indication that the operators from that state still are standing by the resolutions adopted three weeks ago, when they decided to exact what practically amounts to a reduction in wages from the miners.

TEACHERS MUST SHUN CUPID

Not to Marry During Term.

Omaha, Neb., March 21.—School authorities in Otes county have decided female schoolteachers must sign a contract not to marry during the school year before they will be given positions in the schools. Teachers in most of the districts in the county have married recently, causing great inconvenience to the educational system. There is much opposition to the order, but the officials insist it will be enforced to the letter.

Foreman Kills Seven Workmen.

Bristol, Tenn., March 21.—Information from Marcen, N. C., is to the effect that in a fight on the South and Western railroad the foreman in defending himself clubbed seven Italians to death with a crowbar.

Rich Man Appeals to Charity.

Omaha, Neb., March 21.—Matthew Kehoe of Ponca, Neb., a wealthy Nebraskan, was compelled to appeal to the Associated Charities for money to pay his fare home because nobody in Omaha could identify him.

Want Traction Vote in Elgin.

Elgin, Ill., March 21.—Elgin residents are planning to ask for a referendum vote in the matter of giving the Elgin, Aurora & Southern Traction company a franchise to haul freight through the city streets.

Coal Rises 50 Cents at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., March 21.—An advance of 50 cents a ton had been ordered on soft coal here. Railroads and big manufacturing plants are buying the coal up and storing it in fear of a strike of the miners.

Ballot Fraud Case Dismissed.

Joliet, Ill., March 21.—State's Attorney Heise dismissed the indictment against Assistant City Clerk Mooney growing out of the fraudulent marking of ballots in the last mayoralty election.

French Rural Postmen.

The French postman of rural neighborhoods ekes out the small salary of his governmental position by doing all kinds of errands in the village for people who live along his route. He makes a small income from the fees received for these services. In summer, nowadays, he sometimes goes his rounds on a bicycle, but in winter he has to walk.

10,000 read Gazette want ads daily.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

The annual convention of the National Coopers' association is in session at St. Louis. A matter of importance to be considered in the convention is the scarcity of white oak. Mrs. Florence Siegel of Trenton, N. J., was killed and her husband, Samuel Siegel, had a leg broken as a result of jumping from a third-story window of their home while the house was on fire.

President Lillian Wyckoff Johnson of the Western College for Women at Hamilton, O., announces that Andrew Carnegie has offered $50,000 to complete the $250,000 endowment fund now being raised by the college. Mark A. Mitscher of Oklahoma was readmitted to the Naval academy at Annapolis.

Professor H. A. Hames of Boulder, Col., has been appointed head of the pedagogy department in Harvard.

Viscount Hayashi, the Japanese ambassador to the court of St. James, started for Japan on a six months' holiday.

Stratton D. Brooks, superintendent of schools at Cleveland, O., has accepted the position of superintendent of the Boston public schools.

George B. Anderson, who has been acting as consul general of the United States army at Amoy, China, has arrived in San Francisco on his way to Janeiro, where he is to fill the position of consul general for this country.

General Samuel K. Schwenk, chairman of the Vicksburg battlefield commission, of Pennsylvania, accompanied by the other members of the commission and their wives, called on the President yesterday at the white house.

For Anti-Vivisectionists.

Anti-vivisectionists have often suggested that medical investigators should make experiments on themselves rather than on animals. They do not seem to be aware, or perhaps they shut their eyes to the fact, that investigators often do experiment on themselves; not a few have fallen victims to their zeal for knowledge.—British Medical Journal.

"Pawning Agent."

A woman who appeared in a London police court the other day was described as a "pawning agent." She makes her living by pawning things for her neighbors, who pay her a commission because they believe she can secure larger loans than they could.

Ice Field Moves Out.

Duluth, Minn., March 21.—The great ice field, fully twenty miles long, and sitting in between the Minnesota and Wisconsin shores, that occupied the head of Lake Superior, has gone as quickly as it came. High wind removed the entire mass.

Illinois Mines Shut Down.

Litchfield, Ill., March 21.—The two Consolidated Coal company mines at Hornsby closed Monday. The reason given for the shutdown is the pending conference on the threatened strike.

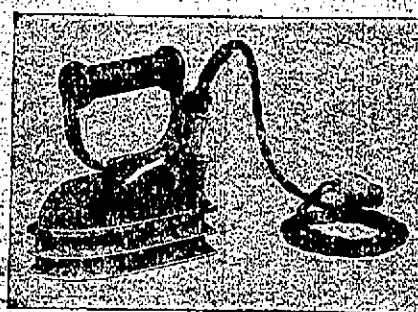

TEARS at parting with a comfortable old pair of shoes are common among men who don't know that the

CROSSETT
$4.00 SHOE $5.00
MAKES LIFE'S WALK EASY

Men who wear Crossetts will tell you that a new pair of Crossetts are as easy to your feet as a new mattress to your back.

If your dealer does not keep them, we will send any style on receipt of price with 25c. additional to pay forwarding charges.

LEWIS A. CROSSETT, Inc.
NORTH ABINGTON, MASS.

ELECTRIC FLAT IRONS

—FOR—

Factory, Shop, Laundry or Residence,

Have been proved by actual test to be cheaper to operate than any other kind. They are made in a variety of shapes and weights to meet all requirements. They are always hot, always clean, and always ready for instant use.

Let us install one on 30 days trial.

JANESVILLE ELECTRIC CO.

For Quick Returns Try Gazette Want Ads.

National Cream Separator.

In choosing a Separator, there are the following points to be demanded: Simplicity, Durability, Convenience, Appearance and Efficiency. In all these five points, and these really sum up the essential features,

The National Cream Separator Leads Them All

Other points in favor of The National are that it is easier to run, easier to clean and keep clean, and that it leaves both milk and cream in the best possible form. Remember, it is—

The Simple National,
The Easy Cleaning National,
The Light Running National,
The Safe National,
The Money Saving National;

in fact the best machine you can buy.

We Have Separators Varying in Price from $15.00 to $150.00

D. M. BARLASS

COURT STREET BRIDGE